GOP Vote Trails

Gruening Ahead Of Stepovich For Senate

Juneau, Alaska (AP)—Unofficial returns from 42 of 87 precincts in Tuesday's Alaska state election give:

For U.S. Senate Term A: Bartlett (D) 2,204, Robertson (R) 454, Capper (I) 37.

For U.S. House: Rivers (D) 1,526, Benson (R) 1,126.

For Governor: Egan (D) 1,567, Butrovich (R) 1,091, Dollinter (I) 34.

Returns from 46 of 287 precincts gave:

For U.S. Senate Term B: Gruening (D) 1,446, Stepovich (R) 1,440.

Elected Alaska Senate Term A: Bartlett (D).

Juneau, Alaska (AP)—Democrats swept into the lead in all of Alaska's major election campaigns as early returns were tallied in what may be the territory's largest election turnout.

Scattered returns showed Democra E. L. Bartlett holding a 4-1 margin over his Republican opponent, R. E. Robertson for one Senate position. Bartlett, for 14 years Alaska delegate to Congress, had little campaign opposition from Robertson.

In the other Senate race, rated a tossup in pre-election campaigning, Democrat Ernest Gruening held a slight edge over Republican Mike Stepovich. Both are former governors of the territory.

Stepovich

In 17 of 287 precincts Bartlett led Robertson 946 votes to 210 for Senate Term A. Independent Keith Capper had 15. In Senate Term B race, Gruening had 552 to Stepovich's 513. Democrat Ralph Rivers led in the House race 657 to Republican Henry Benson's 488.

City precincts in southeastern Alaska, where the polls closed first, reported vote totals above the number cast last August when more than 48,000 Alaskans voted in a special referendum to approve statehood.

At Juneau, Sitka, Ketchikan and Petersburg the turnout surpassed that of the statehood referendum. At Alaska's two largest cities, Anchorage and Fairbanks, some precincts reported the vote total running 10% higher than in August.

A warming trend spilled over from a north Pacific storm, bringing many subzero temperatures up to balmy sub-freezing marks. Light snow in the northern and western sections of the territory gave way to clear skies as voters trudged to the polls.

1 House Member

Alaska will become the 5th state with only one member of the House. The others are Delaware, Nevada, Vermont and Wyoming.

In the gubernatorial race, Democrat William Egan, favored to become the territory's first elected chief executive, held a slight lead over Republican John Butrovich Jr.

Pre-election forecasts were for a total vote between 35,000 and 40,000 in the balloting for congressional delegates, governor, a secretary of state and 60 members of the first state legislature.

'No Damage' Fire

A burning mattress was found to be the cause of a fire alarm answered early Wednesday morning in the Milner Hotel at 119 So. 15th. A great deal of smoke but no damage resulted from the blaze.

IN SHADOW OF AX

Millions of turkeys across the nation are in the shadow of the ax—the same as this flock of several thousand on the Ruegnitz Brothers farm near Dubuque, Ia. Ransom Ruegnitz, shown shouldering the ax, says these six-months-olds birds average about 20 pounds.

FAIR BUT COLD SEEN

Fair skies but continued cold weather are on tap for Nebraska residents Wednesday, the Weather Bureau forecasted.

Temperatures will fall to zero or below freezing in western Nebraska while the rest of the state will have temperatures mostly in the 20s.

While parts of Minnesota and North Dakota suffered blizzard conditions Tuesday, skies throughout Nebraska were clear.

Lincoln and Omaha were the "hot spots" Tuesday for the state reporting high temperatures of 42. Chadron and Scottsbluff both reported low temperatures of 20.

Storms Lash At Mid U.S.

. . 100 MPH Winds

By The Associated Press

Winter weather buffeted the northern plains and upper Great Lakes region Tuesday, pasting border areas with heavy snows and dropping temperatures across the nation's midsection.

Arctic air moving south over the Rockies and plains triggered strong winds northwest of Denver Tuesday. Two persons were injured and 25 to 30 homes damaged by the winds that belw up to 100 m.p.h.

The cold wave brought a Weather Bureau warning of possible severe thunderstorms or tornadoes in the mid-Mississippi valley.

Blizzard

Heavy snows churned by gusts up to 60 m.p.h. produced blizzard conditions across the Dakotas and northwestern Minnesota. The snow piled up to 14 inches at Devils Lake, N. D., and one foot at Grand Forks, N. D. International Falls, Minn., measured a 5-inch fall.

A cold wave was forecast for parts of 10 states with overnight lows of 5 to 10 below zero indicated for sections of the Dakotas and Montant and zero for Minnesota.

Montana received the brunt of the storm Monday when winds up to 70 m.p.h. battered most of the state with up to 12 inches of snow.

Ex-LAFB Pilot Dies In Crash

Jet Tanker Hits At Maine Base

A KC135 jet tanker crash at Loring AFB near Limestone, Me. Tuesday took the lives of 5 Air Force men including a former Lincoln Air Force Base captain.

Both survivors of the wreck were also formerly stationed for several years at the Lincoln base.

Capt. Morgan

Capt. Bernard Morgan, 40, of Hope, Kan., instructor - pilot aboard the 4-engine tanker, and formerly stationed at the Lincoln base since March, 1954, died in the crash. He had been a member of the 98th Refueling Sqdn., at LAFB.

Ex-Lincolnites Survive

Survivors were Capt. Herman J. Dosenbach, 35, son of Mr. and Mrs. Herman S. Dosenback of Kirkwood, Mo., who transferred to Loring AFB, Me., from Lincoln within the past year, and T.Sgt. Charles A. Holsclaw, 31, son of Mr. and Mrs. Alvin H. Holsclaw of Madison, Ind., who formerly lived at 2545 Theresa in Lincoln with his wife and 3 children. Captain Dosenbach also had been attached to the 98th Air Refueling Sqdn., while stationed at LAFB.

Dosenbach, married and the father of 4 children, escaped with a hand injury and Holsclaw suffered a broken arm and burns.

The Stratotanker was practicing touch-and-go landings with 3 instructors on board.

Officials said the plane touched down on the runway, the pilot gunned the engines for another takeoff and then the speeding plane suddenly dropped its right wing into the ground.

Capt. Morgan is survived by his wife, Maxine, and 4 children, Kevin, Pamela, Shannon and Tim. The Morgans resided at 2345 Scott in Lincoln. The officer is the son of Mr. and Mrs. John F. Morgan of Hope, Kan.

State Serving 12,000 Feast Thanksgiving

How would you like to have to buy 11,266 pounds of turkey for your Thanksgiving dinner?

That's a heap of turkey—but then there will be a lot of people eating it too. About 12,000 persons, to be exact, which represents the number of meals which will be served in the state's 17 institutions Thursday.

With the traditional Thanksgiving feast planned for all persons institutionalized over the state, as well as the staffs that care for them, the Board of Control had a very large buying list on its hands for the holiday.

Turkey isn't turkey without cranberries, and there will be 1,920 pounds of the red berries on hand to go with the main course, as well as 2,270 pounds of celery.

Add to this some 8,000 grapefruit, nearly 13,000 oranges, and you have an idea of the buying and serving problems.

Then white potatoes, sweet potatoes, beans, peas, carrots, and other vegetables and fruits which will be served from the thousands of cans of food processed at the Nebraska Penitentiary canning factory also will be added, and mince meat and pumpkin pies slated for dessert.

Vote Tosses Out Acre Controls, Allows Lower Price Supports

Nebraskans Hold National Trend In Vote

Nebraska's corn farmers voted to scrap present acreage allotment controls on corn by a healthy 70% majority, following the national trend.

With 60 of the state's 61 commercial corn counties reporting the vote was 22,732 for unrestricted planting and a slightly lower federal support price on corn. A total of 9,617 farmers voted to retain the present acreage allotment controls with 75-90% parity guarantees.

Only one county went against the state trend against the present corn acreage allotment plan. Thurston County farmers voted 218 for the present controls and 201 for the scrapping of controls under the new plan.

Votes on the corn referendum totaled about 32,500 of the state's estimated eligible 125,000 farmers.

Several counties which ran up impressive percentages against the present acreage allotments included Butler, 82.3% against; Madison, 83.6% against; Pierce, 83.2% against; Platte, 83.5% against, and York, 82.3 against.

In Nebraska the decision to remain with the old parity program based on acreage restrictions, or go to unlimited production on an open market supported price rested largely with Nebraska corn growers who in recent years did not participate in the program, according to Charles Clark, Nebraska ASC director of allotments and price support programs.

It was estimated that only 35 per cent of the 1958 producers participated in acreage allotments to the extent of 40% of the program's Nebraska allotment of 4,171,000 acres.

40% Over Allotment

The balance of the producers, unfettered by program restrictions, overplanted the state allotment by an estimated 40 per cent, an excess of somewhere between 1 and 1.5 million acres.

These non-compliant producers received price supports approximately 25c a bushel less than the average of $1.32 per bushel granted to compliant farmers.

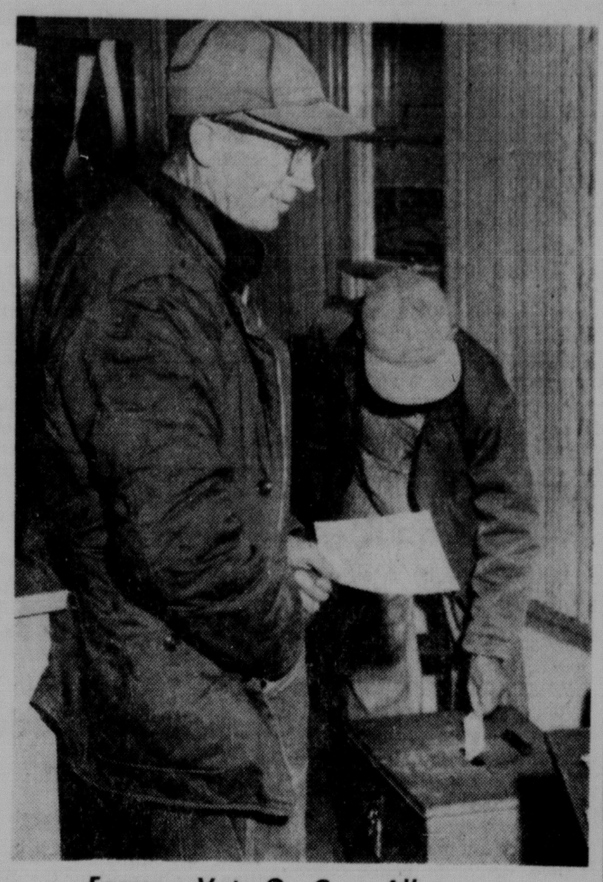

Under the price - support-either-way arrangement and aided by favorable weather Nebraska produced an exceptionally large, 285 million bushel corn crop in 1958.

Non-Compliance Aided

Originally the farm program rewarded compliance with high price supports, but refused that safeguard to non-compliant producers. The Department of Agriculture broke precedent in 1956 when mounting surpluses threatened to collapse the open market. Each year since 1955 the department supported non-compliance production at a slightly lower figure than it afforded to the compliant farmer.

Spurred by price supports for non compliance and by increasing austerity of acreage reduction under the program an increasing number of Nebraska producers have abandoned program participation. The declining number had a weakening effect on the program's attempts at controlling surpluses.

Some observers branded Tuesday's decision as one forcing a producer expression on department prepared proposals that offered the corn farmer no opportunity to make a clear statement of position on the parity principle, or on unbridled production on a vanishing open market based price support program. They described it rather as a vote to decide whether the remaining minority of complying producers would have a continued right of choice.

STATE FARM LEADERS ARE NOT SURPRISED

The relatively high percentage of corn farmers favoring an end to present corn allotments was not surprising to Nebraska farm leaders.

Charles Marshall, Avoca, president of the Nebraska Farm Bureau Federation, the only farm organization in Nebraska to back the new idea, said he expected the adoption of the new plan because "we weren't getting anywhere with the previous one."

He said although the new program won't solve everything, "it is definitely a step in the right direction."

The fact that only 12% of the corn produced in the country was under the allotment program, he said, was in itself evidence that farmers were dissatisfied with the old program.

Elton S. Berck, president of the Nebraska Farmers Union, also not surprised at the trend of the voting, said he doubted the long-range value of the program "because no controls will result in much greater problems as far as surpluses are concerned."

Berck said he felt the new program would only last a few years at the most and would have to be replaced when surpluses reached a high level.

A University of Nebraska farm economist, Everett Peterson, said the new program will increase surpluses and lead to lower cattle prices.

Peterson, who said he felt neither program proposed in the referendum was a solotion to the corn problem, said, "most of the voters thought this new plan couldn't last and are hoping something new will come along in the future."

Farmers 'Unhappy'

State ASC Chairman, Honor Oschner of Madison, interpreted the vote of the corn farmers as "an indication that they are unhappy with the present program, and this is the first opportunity they've had to express themselves."

He also pointed out that the "situation this year, with non-compliance corn guaranteed support at near compliance corn levels, may have caused this."

Under the plan approved by Nebraska and the nation's farmers, corn supports will be 90% of the level of the average corn price of the last 3 years, but never below 65% of parity. This plan places no restrictions on the amount of corn a farmer may grow.

Under the present plan, corn acreage is restricted to specified limits by the government and only the corn produced in compliance with the federal restrictions is supported at the 75%-90% of parity figure.

State presidents of the Grange and National Farmers Organization could not be reached Tuesday night.

Pearle Finigan, head of the NFO Nebraska chapter, had favored continuance of the old program and said the new plan would create a tremendous corn surplus and depress the cattle market.

George Spidel, Grange state head, had been neutral on the two proposals.

Benson Idea Wins Heavy Ballot Support

By Ovid A. Martin

Washington (AP)—Corn growers voted more than 2-1 Tuesday in favor of ending corn production controls that had been in effect for 25 years—since the early days of the new deal.

Farm officials regarded the vote as a victory for Secretary of Agriculture Benson in his efforts to reduce government's role in farming. Benson had urged growers to ditch the control program.

In return for the right to grow all the corn they wish, growers accepted lower government price supports.

Preliminary returns from 25 of the 26 major corn states voting gave 246,475 to abandon controls and 100,064 to retain them. Adverse weather conditions apparently delayed the North Dakota returns.

Kentucky, a major corn-producing state, voted 4,555-1,990 to retain the controls. Agriculture Department officials said the Kentucky vote apparently reflected concern of farmers there that elimination of corn controls might lead to later elimination of the popular controls on tobacco.

Choice Of 2 Plans

Before growers was the choice between (1) the present program of acreage planting allotments and price supports between 75 and 90 per cent of parity for those complying with allotments, and (2) a plan eliminating allotments and offering lower supports.

The second plan will be the one used by the Agriculture Department in 1959 and subsequent years.

Under the new proposal—backed by Benson in a broad move to reduce farm controls—supports on all corn would be at 90 per cent of the average price of the grain during the preceding 3 years, but not less than 60 per cent of parity.

Parity is a standard for measuring farm prices, declared by law to be fair to farmers in relation to prices charged them.

Official said the support rate under the old plan would have averaged between $1.24 and $1.27 a bushel in 1959.

Under the new proposal, the rate for all corn will average between $1.12 and $1.15 a bushel.

Rates for this year's corn grown on farms complying with allotments averaged $1.36 and for corn grown on farms exceeding allotments $1.06.

The American Farm Bureau Federation has backed the new proposal, but two other farm groups—the national Grange and the National Farmers Union—have said neither the present program nor the new proposal offers hope of stabilizing prices and supplies of corn.

Surpluses of the grain are at a record high level.

Living-Cost Assistance Hike Jan. 1

Cost - of - living increases in payments to Nebraska assistance recipients not now receiving maximum benefits will go into effect Jan. 1, State Welfare Director Frank M. Woods reported Tuesday.

Gov. Victor Anderson met earlier with the Board of Control, which also serves as the Board of Public Welfare, and strongly recommended that the increase to those not receiving maximum payments be made as soon as they could be computed for individual recipients.

City School Board Oks Federal Aid Participation

...Defense Act Would Strengthen Curricula

By Nancy Ray

Lincoln School Board members gave unanimous approval to the State Board of Education Tuesday to participate in the National Defense Education Act of 1958 under which public schools receive federal funds to strengthen and expand certain areas of their curricula.

The vote of all 6 board members came after Dr. Steven Watkins, superintendent of schools, explained the program and assured the board that there were no federal controls over the local application of the funds, and no binding agreement on the Lincoln schools to match any of the federal funds at present.

Federal funds will be administered under the program by the states, Watkins explained, with states and local districts required to match a major portion of the federal monies.

The Sections

Sections of the federal act which may directly apply to the Lincoln schools are:

—Strengthening of math, science and modern language instruction in elementary and secondary schools with federal funds matched by state-local funds. Seventy million dollars available in 1959 for equipment and minor remodeling. $5 million for state administration of the program.

—Guidance, counseling and testing programs designed for identification and encouragement of able students. No matching funds necessary in 1959. $15 million in federal funds available in 1959, and for the next 3 years.

U.S. Of Media

—Research and experimentation in more effective utilization of TV, radio, motion pictures and related media for educational purposes. Three million dollars authorly for the next 3 years. A master plan must be developed by the state and substruction or the stating of any philosophies of education."

Watkins reported to the board that after meeting with other school officials in Denver recently he "could not find any objectionable controls or factors which might tend to dictate content of instruction or the staing of any philosophies of educaion."

The Lincoln School Board vote was in answer to a request by the State Department of Education for expression of opinion by local authorities on the provisions of the National Defense Education Act.

Lefler Jr. High Area Extension Given Approval

Lincoln School Board members approved the extension of Millard Lefler Junior High School boundaries to the west to take in an area where the majority of children now attend that school.

The dividing line between the Millard Lefler and Irving Junior High attendance areas was formerly 33rd St. The new boundaries extend the territory for Millard Lefler from 33rd and Normal northwest to Normal and A, west on A to the Rock Island tracks, northwest on the tracks to 27th and Alpha, east on Alpha to 28th, north on 28th to F, East on F to 29th, north on 29th to Randolph, east on Randolph to 31st, north on 31st to K, and east on K to 33rd.

Approximately 26 children in the area now attend Millard Lefler, Schools Superintendent Steven Watkins explained, and only 3 attend Irving.

Participation Lack Ends On-Farm School Training

Lack of sufficient participation was blamed for the discontinuance Nov. 30 of the institutional on-farm training program by the Lincoln Public Schools.

Only 14 have been registered for the course this year, Schools Supt. Steven Watkins explained, and entitlements of most Korean veterans for the program have been exhausted.

Two veterans will continue their training at Valparaiso, and the rest of the class will be terminated, Watkins said.

Since its inauguration following World War II, nearly 200 veterans have trained in the Lincoln on-farm program.

Board To Sign Annexation OK

Lincoln School Board members agreed Tuesday to sign formal papers which would allow the annexation of District 126 (West Lincoln) into the Lincoln school system when outstanding warrants are paid up.

The contracts between the two districts were drawn up by County Superintendent Glenn Turner.

U.S. Defense Meet Called By President

Augusta, Ga. (AP)—President Eisenhower Tuesday called the nation's defense high command to a conference here Friday on military spending.

The summons to a group headed by Secretary of Defense Neil H. McElroy and Gen. Nathan F. Twining, chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff, went out on this first anniversary of the vacationing President's light stroke.

But if Eisenhower — suntanned and cheerful after 6 days of golf—was giving any thought to the illness which hit him a year ago Tuesday in Washington, he didn't disclose it to aides.

Early last month the President had his annual physical checkup and the doctors pronounced him in excellent health after suffering three major illnesses in as many years.

West Coast Missile Shot Is Scheduled

Washington (AP) — The first ballistic missile launching from the new Pacific range extending off the California Coast is scheduled for early next month.

Announcing this, the Defense Department said an Air Force Thor intermediate range missile will be fired by an Air Force crew from the new launching site at Vandenburg Air Force Base in California.

The Vandenburg launching site is designed to supplement the range at Cape Canaveral, Fla. There also is a 3rd national missile range at White Sands, N.M.

The Pentagon said next month's Thor launching will be carried out by a crew from the Strategic Air Command's 1st Missile Division.

FCC Votes Hike In AT&T And WU Teletype Rates

Washington (AP)—The Federal Communications Commission voted Tuesday to allow American Telephone & Telegraph Co. and Western Union to increase their rates for private line teletypewriter service.

The higher rates, estimated to yield AT&T about $8,400,000 and Western Union $5 million annually, will go into effect Dec. 2.

The two companies had sought to put the new rates into effect Dec. 1, but the commission suspended their tariffs. This suspension, a technicality, enables the FCC to require that the companies keep records so that all or part of the increase can be refunded if the commission ultimately finds the rates to be excessive.

The commission currently is conducting an investigation to establish the permanent rates for teletypewriter service.

Pope John's Birthday Spent In Work, Prayer

Vatican City (UPI) — Pope John XVIII rose before dawn Tuesday and spent his 77th birthday in work and prayer. His health was reported excellent.

Although employes of the tiny Vatican State received the day off in his honor, and telegrams and gifts poured in from all over the Western world, there were no special observances for the Pope whose birthday fell 4 weeks to the day after his coronation.

After meditation and prayer in the private chapel adjoining his bedroom, the Pope celebrated Mass in the chapel of the throne near his apartments. Members of the Papal household attended the service

Airlines Block 2 Strikes

Holiday Travel Snowballing

By The Associated Press

Airlines blocked one strike by court order Tuesday, averted a 2nd possible walkoff and sued to halt one already effective as Thanksgiving holiday travel snowballed.

The Air Line Pilots Assn. (ALPA) said it would honor a court order against a strike of American Air Lines, scheduled Tuesday midnight.

National Airlines and the International Assn. of Machinists (IAM) announced full agreement on a contract to run to Oct. 1, 1960. National said a possible strike that would have shut it down was averted.

Eastern Air Lines, world's largest of passenger carriers, asked an injunction against a flight engineers' strike that was followed by a shutdown of Eastern's widespread system Monday.

Truce Sought

Travelers jammed flights of carriers still operating. Miami Beach City officials and hotelmen formed a committee seeking a truce between strikers and Eastern, which claims to carry 60% of the Miami resort area air traffic.

The air travel crisis began developing last Friday when a strike closed Trans World Airlines. Eastern suspended service when IAM mechanics joined flight engineers as strikers.

National Airlines and the IAM went into new sessions after John N. Sheridan, president of the Miami local, said "I am preparing for a strike."

N.Y. Stocks Down Again; 3rd Straight

New York (AP) — Stocks declined for the 3rd straight session Tuesday, ending on the day's lows with losses running from a few cents to about $2 a share.

The drop was not as large as Monday, nor was trading as heavy, but it sufficed to cut an estimated $2,183,000,000 from the quoted value of all shares on the New York Stock Exchange. That came on top of a loss Monday of 6½ billion dollars.

Many market commentators continued to attribute the decline to a normal technical reaction after the long, spectacular upturn this year. Some felt stocks remained higher than warranted by earnings.

Harry Comer of Paine, Webber, Jackson & Curtis said, "My guess is that stocks are heading downward. It seems silly to me to buy stocks to hedge against inflation when stock market prices are themselves highly inflated."

Dixie Chemical Plant Is Rocked By Blast; 7 Hurt

Baton Rouge, La. (AP)—An explosion at the new plant of the Wyandotte Chemical Co. at Geismar, 14 miles south of here, caused a huge fire and injured at least 7 persons.

O. A. Medley, industrial relations manager for the plant, said the blaze was put out about 3 hours after the blast.

The plant employs about 400 persons in the manufacture of basic chemicals to use in making plastics. Cause of the explosion was not known.

County Zoning Study Group Holds Meet

Members of the Greater Lincoln - Lancaster Council sub-committee studying problems of zoning in the county outside basic city jurisdiction were given an orientation at the group's first meeting Tuesday night.

County Engineer Louis Weaver gave them an informal outline of what has been accomplished up to now.

Kenneth Weaver of Raymond, chairman, told the committee members that the first order of business was to decide just what was hoped to be accomplished by county zoning.

The chairman told the group that between now and the next meeting in January, they should give thought to the problem and be ready to discuss it.

Other members of the group are: George Frampton of Davey, Tom Hayman of Holland, Robert Cunningham, Dean W. V. Lambert, Edwin H. Hammond, Lawrence Liebers, Emery Pont and Louis Weaver.

Robert C. Guenzel is vice chairman of the committee. Robert Metrakos is secretary. Ex officio members are: Council Chairman Ervin E. Peterson, Don Dixon, Harold Hoppe, John P. Morrow and Archie Baley.

Red Chinese Accused Of Slaying 500

...In Mainland Revolts

Taipei (UPI) — Nationalist Chinese government sources said Tuesday the Communists slaughtered 500 mainland villagers recently to smash 2 anti-Communist revolts touched off in the mistaken belief the Nationalists had invaded from Formosa.

The sources said word of the revolts came from contacts on the mainland and that the villagers killed 50 Red soldiers in one attack before they were subdued with machinegun fire.

According to the sources, this is what happened:

On Sept. 23, Nationalist counter-artillery fire from the Quemoy offshore island complex destroyed several Red gun emplacements and forced Red troops to flee near the coastal village of Liu Wu Tien. The villagers thought the retreat meant the Nationalists had landed. They attacked and killed 50 soldiers.

Reinforcements arrived and shot to death 200 villagers.

In October, day unspecified, the Communist forces at the village of Chen Hi were staging war games and withdrew before a mock enemy invasion.

Residents of the village thought the retreat meant Nationalis forces had landed and turned on the Reds. Again, reinforcements poured in and this time, 300 civilians were mowed down with machine guns.

ZARUBIN DIES AT 58

...Ex-Envoy To U.S.

Moscow (AP) — Deputy Foreign Minister Georgi N. Zarubin, 58, a husky diplomat who formerly was ambassador to Washington, is dead.

Zarubin

Friends said the former envoy to Ottawa, London and Washington was a victim of lung cancer. It was understood he died in a Moscow hospital. He was last seen publicly at a Turkish Embassy reception Oct. 29.

Zarubin was envoy to Canada when a Russian code clerk, Igor Gouzenko, set off the 1946 police investigation that found a spy ring was operating from the Soviet Embassy.

Ambassador Cleared

The inquiry cleared Zarubin on the basis of evidence that he knew nothing about the operation and was even barred from rooms where it was masterminded.

Though Western suspicions died hard, he went ahead to serve the Kremlin in London and Washington Embassies, in U.N. General Assembly sessions and as a Soviet adviser in such gatherings as the Geneva Big 4 conference of 1955.

Escapes Death

Corpus Christi, Tex. (AP)—A construction worker fell 110 feet and lived.

The worker, H. D. Oliver, 49, broke his right thigh and suffered possible internal injuries, hospital spokesmen said.

Oliver was at work on a bridge being built over the entrance to the port of Corpus Christi. Oliver fell into a mudhole, cushioning his fall.

Nine Newspapers Closed By Strike In Michigan Area

Detroit (AP)—The 9 outstate Michigan dailies of Booth Newspapers, Inc., failed to publish Tuesday because of a strike by the International Typographical Union.

The Booth newspapers have more than half a million total circulation and employ 1,900 persons. None is in Detroit.

Some 600 ITU printers struck against the Booth group to support wage and fringe demands being made in new contract negotiations. ITU-Booth contracts expired last Oct. 1.

When printers went out Monday night at the Grand Rapids Herald, only morning paper in the group, and pickets appeared at plants of other Booth newspapers, negotiations were broken off. No attempt to renew them was made by either side Tuesday.

The Booth walkout brought to 12 the number of Michigan dailies against which the ITU is striking. The Ypsilanti Daily Press, Iron Mountain News and Escanaba Press are the others involved, but all 3 have continued publication.

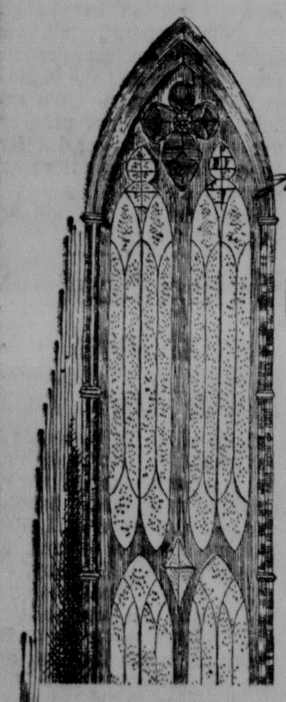

Besides the Grand Rapids Herald, others in the Booth group are: The Grand Rapids Press, the Bay City Times, Ann Arbor News, Jackson Citizen Patriot, Flint Journal, Kalamazoo Gazette, Muskegon Chronicle and Saginaw News.

Russ Say U.S. Has Next Move In Space Talk

Yanks Reply Negotiation Door Open

United Nations, N.Y. (AP) — The Soviet Union declared it is up to the United States to make the next move toward reviving East-West negotiations on outer space.

The United States replied it had not closed the door to further negotiations. But there was virtually no prospect of a U.S.-Soviet meeting before the U.N. General Assembly puts its final approval on creation of an 18-nation Outer Space Study Committee. The Soviet Union has said it would boycott the committee.

Soviet Deputy Foreign Minister Valerian A. Zorin told a news conference in reply to a question:

"We have not closed or slammed the door to negotiations. We won't open it. He who has slammed the door must open it."

No Doors Closed

U.S. Ambassador Henry Cabot Lodge was asked to comment on the Zorin statement and said:

"We have closed no doors. If the Soviets can give some assurance that they have abandoned their intention of controlling the committee, none will be happier but we."

The U.N. Political Commttee approved a U.S.-backed resolution setting up the 18-nation committee to lay the groundwork for a permanent U.N. body on exploration of outer space for peaceful purposes.

The full General Assembly will be asked to approve the resolution probably early next week.

State Assn. Of Superintendents To Meet Here

Juarez, Mexico (UPI) — Lily Pons, the internationally famous coloratura soprano, has divorced orchestra leader Andre Kostelanetz, after a marriage of 22 years.

Divorce was granted in the first Civil Court of Judge Ignacio Martinez Aguayo. Miss Pons appeared in person and charged incompatability. Kostelanetz was represented by an attorney.

COL. WILLIAM GARLAND

98th Bomb Wing Chief Arrives Soon

Col. William C. Garland, commander of the 97th Bombardment Wing at Biggs Air Force Base, Tex., will take command of the 98th Bombardment Wing at Lincoln Air Force Base sometime in December, according to base officials.

Col. Garland will replace Col. Wilson R. Wood who has been selected to attend the 1959-60 class at Imperial Defense College in London, England.

A 1942 graduate of the United States Military Academy at West Point, Col. Garland saw combat action as a B-17 pilot in the European Theater during World War II. The new commander also has seen duty with SAC in Omaha.

Col. Garland, a command pilot, has been awarded numerous decorations including the Distinguished Flying Cross with an Oak Leaf Cluster, Air Medal with 3 Oak Leaf Clusters and the French Croix de Guerre.

Private Education Has Place In Learning, Too—Dr. Typer

"In our society there is indeed a place and a priority for private as well as public higher education," Dr. Donald M. Typer, president of Doane College at Crete, told members of the Lincoln Rotary Club Tuesday.

Dr. Typer, who also is serving this year as president of the Nebraska Independent College Foundation, appeared before the Rotarians to discuss "The Corporation and the Campus."

He called for an "overall study of our facilities, our resources, our population distribution and trends, our salary levels, our tenure of teachers, and our retention of our college and university graduates if we are to approach our total higher education needs intelligently."

College Problem

He noted that a major problem nationally is the rapidly-increasing number of students who will go to college. The number will double in the next 12 years. The problem in the Great Plains region is different from the national picture, however. A recent study shows that by 1963-64 the state will probably have no more than a 40% increase in the number of high school seniors over 1954.

The 7 colleges belonging to the Nebraska Independent College Foundation have current enrollments just under 4,000 students. The combined budget of the 7 schools totals $4,100,000. If these students were suddenly transferred to public institutions at one of the state teachers college's tax subsidy rate of $914 a student per year, the added cost to the taxpayers for current operations only—not including building costs—would be $3,610,000, Dr. Typer said.

Cost Cited

He indicated that a survey he had made shows that the private colleges of Nebraska could absorb up to 2,500 additional students at about $70 a student contribution income or $175,000, whereas at the teachers college rate a head, the same 2,500 would cost $2,285,000 at a publicly-supported institution.

Th Nebraska Independent College Foundation was organized in 1953 when there were 6 corporate gifts amounting to $17,000. Last year 71 corporations contribed $54,203. The goal, Dr. Typer said, is to eventually raise $300,000 from corporations in and out of Nebraska. "In other words, the colleges will find 93 cents of every dollar from other sources if corporations will help us to raise the other 7 cents," he noted.

An Interest

Washington (AP) — A spokesman said the United States has an interest in the subject of modifying restrictions on West Germany's military forces and arms production. But he said this country has no plans to seek such modifications.

Press officer Lincoln White was asked at a news conference at the State Department about published reports that the United States has decided to support proposals to eliminate some of the restrictions. It was reported the subject would come up at a NATO meeting in Paris next month.

Man Hospitalized After Stabbing At Newman Grove

Albion, Neb. (AP)—A Tawas City, Mich., man was hospitalized in Albion Tuesday in satisfactory condition following a stabbing near Newman Grove.

The vctim was identified by Boone County Attorney Ray Medlin Jr., as Joseph Stanley Brooks. Held in Boone County Jail in Albion without charges was William McMurray, retired Army officer, who farms about 15 miles northeast of Albion.

Wartme Souvenir

Medlin and William Keeshan, McMurray's attorney, said Brooks was stabbed in the abdomen with a sharp knife which was a souvenir of McMurray's wartime service. They said the stabbing climaxed a violent argument which began when Brooks, with his father-in-law, Olaf Juelsen, and his brother-in-law Donald Juelsen of Newman Grove, went to the McMurray home.

The Juelsens farm near McMurray, and the attorneys said they have disagreed previously over McMurray's plans to purchase land now rented by the Juelsen's.

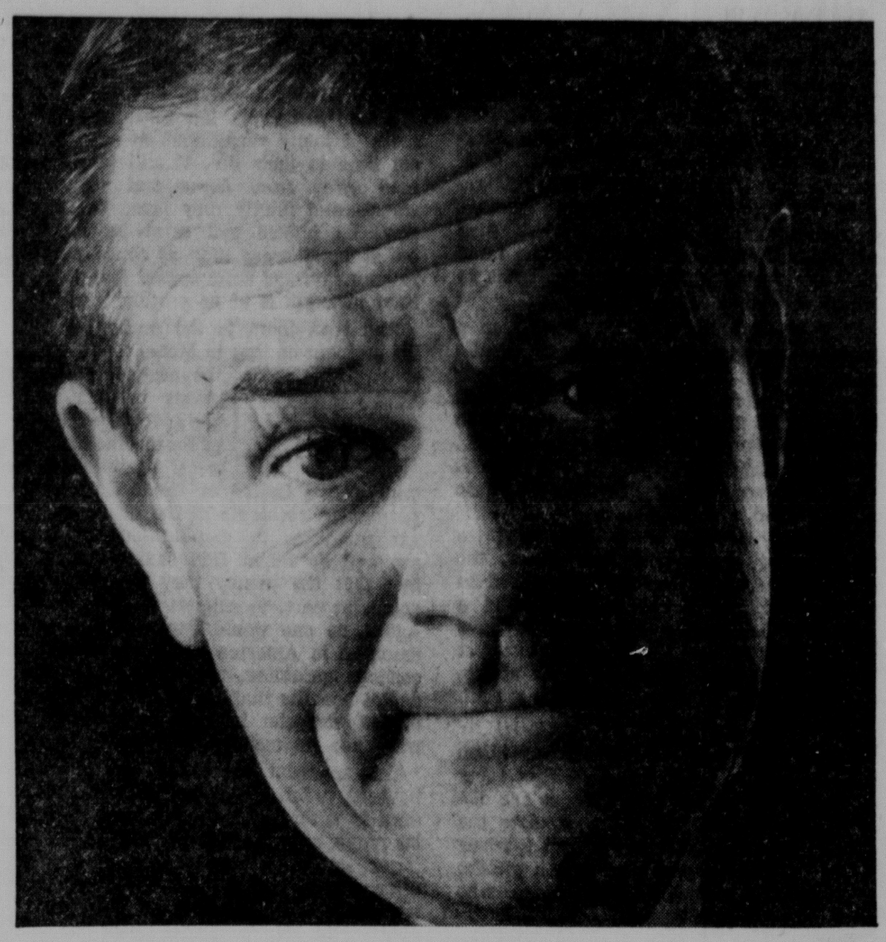

Medlin said he would not file charges until after he could talk with Brooks.

A Rivieran Utopia

By WILLIAM O. DOBLER

We are the last ones who would be knocking the newspapers for anything. Ask us, as a matter of fact, and we will tell you a great many fine things about them. But a situation did strike us, as we looked our product over, that made us think a little curiously about some things.

Viewing three pages of the paper, with no preconceived notion of selection, 12 stories were noticed which dealt with acts of violence and generally crime of a major nature. The stories involved 14 deaths, the great majority of them by way of murder. None of these offerings included either the Starkweather-Fugate or the Grandsinger cases. Also, none of them included the latest FBI report which showed an 11 per cent increase in major crimes during the first nine months of 1958 as compared with the same period a year ago. The situation tends to shake a person up a little.

The Pattern Of News

It recalled to mind a TV story seen a few years ago involving a kindly old gentleman who ran a small town newspaper which he called something like "The Good News." The play reached a climax when the old fellow finally had a story to print but his publication went on for months without a word about anything because nothing good ever happened.

This may sound like a buildup to a Thanksgiving piece but that is not the case. Actually, the Berlin crisis, Nebraska politics, striking airline employes and a host of other stories just seem to have gotten a little cold. Thus, the visit of Prince Rainier and Princess Grace of Monaco in the United States had some appeal.

It is hoped that the time it has taken to get to this point leaves a few other people fed up enough with disorder and dissension that they too can appreciate the visiting royalty. There really isn't a whole lot to the story except that it is a picture of a facinating place and two people who have found happiness and contentment together.

It is the picture of the little kingdom on the Riviera ruled with absolute power by the handsome prince. It brings to mind the storybook situation in which a male heir to the throne must be born to save the kingdom from falling under the rule of France. This would mean military service for the men and taxes for everybody.

Here is a place where two of perhaps the most distasteful things there are do not exist — military service and taxes. Not that we fail to realize that a strong military is essential and this means constant training of men, but the fact that we must have it doesn't make us like it.

It still interrupts the schooling and careers of many young men at a very critical time in their life. It still takes young men away from home and away from friends and family they love. The system can't be junked and must be supported but it must seem nice at times to be so insignificant and unimportant that your military strength is of no earthly importance.

And then there is the matter of taxes. No problem on that in Monaco. What might be needed by way of taxes is obtained by the government's share of the income from such semi - public associations as the Casino at Monte Carlo. Here, permanent residents of the little state are not permitted to gamble but those who are and do might find consolation in the fact that the money they are wasting is going, in part, to support the government. Again, no one would deny that taxes are essential in America and many would not condone gambling, regardless of any incidental benefits that might be derived from it but who can help but envy a people who face no tax levy.

The Tables Income From

The apparent success of the marriage between a former movie star and a monarch is nothing that hasn't been achieved by many other people of both higher and lower station. But maybe we don't think often enough of the successes when we count the many failures. At any rate, the visit might help us forget about the terrible state the world appears to be in at times.

"Maybe We Oughta Close Them, Too"

No Time To Temporize

In sections of the country as widely dispersed as New Mexico, Louisiana and North Carolina the chief public concern at the opening of the week was school bombing—or attempted bombing.

In New Orleans a bomb actually exploded although fortunately no one was injured. In Hobbs, New Mexico, a junior high school was damaged while it was untenanted over the week end. What appeared to be an infernal machine was discovered in a Carolina school. Its hiding place was revealed to police by an unknown informer and if it was a lethal bomb its effects were prevented by quick action.

It is hard to reconcile the enlightenment of America with this recent reversion to terrorism, but a disturbed nation can quickly agree that a serious chain reaction has been touched off calling for urgent and stern measures to restore the security of the young people.

There is no question before America that can be solved by resort to vandalism and deadly assaults on children. If the time has come to put watchmen in school buildings and to declare war on cranks and wanton conspirators, then so be it.

But one thing is certain, the nation cannot afford to temporize with this very serious problem.

Dream Up In Smoke

Up in a cloud of smoke has gone the Navy's dream of a powerful striking force composed of the sleek Seamaster jet seaplanes. And up in smoke along with the plan has gone some $200 million of the taxpayers' money. It is not unusual that this happened in view of the rush of nations toward military superiority.

With the fantastic plunge we are making into the world of self-destruction, almost anything is considered worth a try. But this does not mean that things should be that way or that the Navy program is to be excused without explanation. The report on the abandonment of the Seamaster program carried nothing by way of explanation.

Two of the big seaplanes have crashed, carrying four crewmen to death but the Navy did not give this as a reason for stopping production of the big bombers. The fact still remains that $200 million has been spent on a program for which little has been gained and for which there is nothing to show. It would seem that the Navy owes the American people some explanation of how the program got started, what its purpose or goal was and why it is now being cancelled.

Perhaps $200 million does not seem like a lot of money. It is hardly a drop in the bucket compared to the nearly $6 billion expected to be handed out in 1959 by Uncle Sam for various grants-in-aid to the states. It wouldn't build enough bombers for the Strategic Air Command to make much if any difference in the striking power of the the U.S. But it is still a lot of money and the process involved is one which we don't want to go through again.

Aid Scale Readjustment

No thoughtful person will take issue with Governor Victor Anderson, the State Board of Control and State Welfare Director Frank Woods, that Nebraska should increase its assistance payments.

There are sufficient reserves in the welfare fund to provide reasonable increases without adding to taxes. And there is the fact of declining dollar values. Assistance payments won't buy what they formerly did. The aging and indigent are as subject to living costs as are the active.

It is not in the thinking of the administration to increase the maximum payments at this time, but to confine the increase to the less-than-maximum allowances. Subject to the proposed benefits are the aged, the blind, the disabled and the dependent children.

One presumes that an ideal assistance provision would be one that would vary the allowances in proportion to living costs; smaller payments when cost of living is down, greater ones when it rises. But there are practical barriers to this on the side of financing. Budgets have to be frozen in periodically and cannot always fluctuate with the vagaries of the general economy.

In the absence of such an automatic mechanism it is incumbent on the governing officials to be responsive to the changes that affect the welfare of the state's clients and to act appropriately when circumstances indicate the need. This is what the present group have done. The good move will be complete when the favorable expression is converted into action.

Spoken In Anger

Senator Paul Douglas, Ill., let his emotions carry him away when he advocated smashing our way into Berlin instead of attempting an airlift in event of a blockade. Many will agree that some gratification could be had by meeting the trouble-making Reds with a smashing sock on the nose. Possibly even it would suffice to temper them in the future. But that is an impulse of anger, not reason.

Better it would be to be well enough prepared to hold firm to our position in West Berlin, but wait to see whether there is really going to be a blockade and if so, how firm a one. The initiative in this case is to make the Reds do the guessing. And the best precedent is the original airlift which defeated the blockade handily enough without the use of force.

Navy Mum On Trips For Congressmen

WASHINGTON — The U.S. Navy on most matters is one of the frankest outfits in Washington. But there is one thing the Navy just will not talk about—congressional junkets.

Its spokesmen get red in the face, stammer, squirm, and duck. But they will not reveal the names of congressmen flying in Navy planes, especially congressmen who sit on the appropriations committees which vote them money.

At least the Navy will not reveal this super-secret information when it has been properly alerted by superiors in the Defense Department and by irate congressmen who don't want it revealed.

One Navy spokesman did answer a query last week regarding senators flying to a NATO meeting in Paris on a Navy plane for Thanksgiving in Europe. Apparently he considered this a routine request; for he stated that four Republican senators—Bridges of New Hampshire, Mundt of South Dakota, Dirksen of Illinois and Young of North Dakota — were flying to Dublin, Paris, Rome and Lisbon with a return through winter-resort Bermuda. Their wives, he said, were accompanying them.

He was in error regarding Sen. Mundt. The senator from South Dakota was slated to take the trip with Mrs. Mundt, but at the last minute dropped out.

☆ ☆ ☆

The naval spokesman explained as an afterthought that the senators would inspect 6th fleet facilities in the Mediterranean, since there are no NATO meetings in Rome or Lisbon. He also explained that the wives were going along so the senators could be properly represented at social functions.

He did not need to explain that all the above senators are members of the Senate Appropriations Committee and for that reason the Navy was going out of its way to make them happy.

After the above information was published in this column—erroneously in regard to Sen. Mundt—a deluge of squawks began to rain down on various parts of Washington. They rained on this office for saying that Sen. Mundt had gone to Europe when he had not. They also rained on the Navy's press relations office for admitting that any senators with wives had flown to Europe. Finally, it was pointed out that other congressmen, including both houses and both political parties, had also flown to Europe.

It was from this point on that all naval spokesmen clammed up.

DORIS FLEESON

California GOP Press Is Unstuck

LOS ANGELES — During the lush Republican years in California politics the state's press, with rare exceptions, notably the McClatchy Bee newspapers, gave the party monolithic support of a kind rather rarely seen elsewhere. By common consent, the stone at the head of the corner was marked "Norman Chandler and the Los Angeles Times."

To Californians, one of the most arresting features of the campaign this fall was the major breach in this press wall. The Hearst newspapers of Los Angeles and San Francisco and the Scripps-Howard News of San Francisco endorsed Governor-elect Edmund G. (Pat) Brown, while the San Francisco Chronicle at the last minute dramatically withdrew its endorsement of the Republican nominee, Senator William F. Knowland.

These developments were accompanied by widespread suggestions that the Chandler influence had persuaded Knowland to key his campaign to support of the right-to-work proposal on the ballot this year. Since both were decisively beaten, the GOP recriminations directed both at Knowland and Chandler have been echoing loudly all over the state.

☆ ☆ ☆

It is fair to add that the Chandler name is used by many of the complainers as a generic title for those conservative Republican interests which are charged with failing to respond to the changing times.

Norman Chandler seemed calm when questioned directly about whether other major California newspapers were apparently going into business for themselves.

The extent of their common purposes and agreements had always been vastly exaggerated, he said. He could not remember that they had ever formally decided upon a common course.

"I do my politics in the columns of my newspaper," he said firmly.

☆ ☆ ☆

But he did more than suggest of his own motion that some sons of famous publishers were deciding to stand on their own feet these days. With the same dry humor which accompanied his comments on his political reverses, he documented his point with amusing stories about the arguments the younger generation was having with each other.

His own strongly dynastic feelings were to the fore in his defense on right-to-work legislation to which his deep commitment is constant. The long-gone days of violent labor-capital clashes which saw the Los Angeles Times building dynamited are apparently as real to him as today's editions of his newspaper.

Unquestionably, these emotions inspired the apostolic fervor of his election-eve, front-page editorial insisting "It Must Be Knowland" — the same Knowland he has now consigned to political oblivion.

☆ ☆ ☆

Chandler has placed his own bets for 1960 on Vice President Richard M. Nixon who, incidentally, has declined to say how he voted on right-to-work in his home state. Of the looming New York threat, Governor-elect Nelson Rockefeller, Chandler said only that he could not see any great difference between him and the defeated Democrat, Governor Averell Harriman, a verdict rather widely held in political circles.

MARQUIS CHILDS

Red Question: Will U.S. Stand Firm?

WASHINGTON — If the showdown over Berlin fails to materialize, American military planners will almost certainly claim that it was because preparations to meet it were so thorough and so complete.

The plan long in readiness calls for an air lift to supply American, British and French military outposts in Berlin. The estimated 600 to 700 planes required would be readily available. They have been designated in detailed planning for an attempt by the Communists to force the western allies out of Berlin.

If the transport planes should be attacked as they fly between Frankfurt and Berlin in the air corridors provided under the four-power agreement, Communist attackers will be knocked down by American fighter planes. But the belief here is that the East German Communists will not go that far even if they are given full authority by the Russians when — and if — they carry out their promised withdrawal from the city. At the first sign of resistance the transport planes will be provided with a fighter escort.

The cost of supplying the military outposts with a 600-to-700-plane airlift is put at about one-tenth that of the Berlin lift of 1948-49. Then the entire city was supplied by air. Today Berlin's civilian population, under the agreement signed last week between East and West Germany, will get normal supplies by surface transportation. The conviction here is that such an airlift for the military garrison only could go on indefinitely.

☆ ☆ ☆

The Communist powers in Moscow and their puppets in East Berlin unquestionably know in detail the carefully worked out plan to insure that the western allies are not forced out of the city. They have been waiting for any show of irresolution which might indicate that the will to put that plan into effect is lacking.

Those signs have not been forthcoming. There have been hints that the Kremlin might be testing the Berlin situation in the light of the American election returns on November 4 when overwhelming Democratic majorities were elected in Senate and House. Several prominent Democrats have in recent days affirmed the right of the West to remain in Berlin.

While it may be premature, the conviction is growing that a firm stand, together with a carefully detailed plan to be put into effect at the first indication of a blockade, has caused a change of plans in Moscow. The Russians may go through with the ending of their share in the four-power occupation, but they will keep the east Germans on a tight leash to insure that nothing is done which could seriously endanger the peace.

The parallel with Quemoy and Matsu is already being suggested here. Because administration policy was to hold firm and back Chiang Kai-shek on the offshore islands, despite widespread doubt among America's allies and in public opinion at home, the Communists gradually retreated from their defiant position, and comparative peace again prevails in the Formosa strait.

It is quite possible, of course, that this supposition will be proved wrong day after tomorrow. Moscow may merely be working out a new tactic to keep the Berlin crisis boiling.

☆ ☆ ☆

But while that earlier airlift occurred a decade ago the tremendous impression it made is still strong. In a year and a half British and American planes arriving at Tempelhoff airfield at Berlin on the average of one every three minutes carried 2,343,315 tons of food and coal in 277,264 flights. The blockade ended with the arrival of a C-54 carrying two and a half tons of coal on September 30, 1949.

But while the military measures prepared to defeat a blockade may have forestalled a showdown, the position of the two Germanys appears to have been altered by this latest crisis. By signing an agreement with East Germany the Bonn government has taken at least one short, tentative step toward an arrangement with the Communist regime in East Berlin that could eventually mean reunification on terms quite unacceptable to the West.

This may, in fact, be Moscow's real goal, just as Communist China's goal in pressing the issue of the offshore islands is to bring the two Chinas together by a combined assault of fear and persuasion. In the instance of both of the two Germanys and the two Chinas the West must take into account powerful forces of attraction and repulsion that work for the long pull, regardless of the ups and downs of periodic crisis.

The Decorations

Lincoln, Neb.

To the editor of The Lincoln Star: For three years now I have watched our Lincoln streets being decorated to celebrate—what? A comic strip? A moving picture organization? Surely not Christmas, for what have Disneyland characters to do with the birth of Christ?

Are we trying to take "Christ" out of "Christmas?" It would be far better to leave our streets undecorated. Surely this is a mockery of Christmas.

I wonder if I am the only one in Lincoln who feels this way.

Vetoing Our Votes

Scotia, Neb.

To the editor of The Lincoln Star: I've been told we have a wonderful thing in our power to vote if we will just exercise that right. I contest that on the grounds of recent developments.

Rep. Harrison who represented the Third Congressional District in the state of Nebraska was soundly defeated by that vote. They called it a Democratic victory. His farm policy defeated him. Republican farmers were forced to vote Democratic in order to vote in defiance of his flexible price support program, which he was instrumental in getting passed in the House.

He was ousted from office because he didn't represent the people who elected him. Yet he has already been called to Washington by Secretary Benson for an appointive position on his agricultural staff.

We reject party lines to vote on policy and are defeated by the appointive positions in which Secretary Ezra Taft Benson and his entire staff are included.

President Eisenhower, realizing the significance of the vote, said: "We will make no changes in our farm policy."

That statement and the appointment of Harrison by Benson are in direct defiance of the votes we cast.

I am one who would like to vote on the selection of a secretary of agriculture.

Farm Vote

Blair, Neb.

To the editor of The Lincoln Star: Two things. One: We wonder why ex-Gov. Anderson is so worried about leaving the Statehouse, without advance warning or preparation? We do not think they will contest.

Two: We hope Midwest farmers will refuse to face up to the dilemma the Eisenhower - Benson team has posed by refusing to vote in the Tuesday referendum. Either way they vote, they are "rooked."

The sound ever-normal granary of Wallace and the Democrats was deliberately wrecked by Benson. He forced non-compliance with the control-parity system by super-imposing the outrageous government give-away on "free corn," the one thing next to the exorbitant storage rates paid by the Republicans for surplus grains that now accounts for swelling surpluses and increased handouts to agriculture.

DEWEY NEMETZ

Lincoln, Neb.

To the editor of The Lincoln Star: Farmers had a chance Tuesday to take a stand in determining the future of agriculture. If they voted in favor of proposition No. 1, then acreage controls are on the way out. This would jolt the blatant politicos who have pretended for years that they were "doing something" for the farmers by ladling out ever higher subsidies with the tighter controls that went with crop supports.

The healthiest segments of agriculture today are those which have gotten along without price supports and subsidies, such as the livestock business.

Any farmer who thinks he can be prosperous and happy letting the government take care of him should have a look at the condition of the American Indian.

Rabies Shots

Lincoln, Neb.

To the editor of The Lincoln Star: Just what is Dr. Underwood, in the name of the Health Department, trying to put over on the dog owners of Lincoln now? We already have at least enough laws to control dogs — more than can be strictly enforced with present funds and facilities, anyway. Why burden the Humane Society, the law-abiding dog owners, and all the rest of the taxpayers as well with further burdensome and unnecessary legislation? This would probably do more harm in breeding resentment against the already too high cost of owning a dog than it could possibly help in controlling rabies.

This proposed ordinance carries some utterly ridiculous and impracticable sections besides the more publicized compulsory "vaccination before licensing" one. Travelers with dogs would be unwelcome, new residents might not be allowed to bring their pets into Lincoln, dog breeders would find it difficult if not impossible to carry on their business. And these are not sources of rabies, anyway.

Education of the public, such as the fine vaccination clinics sponsored by the Cornhusker Kennel Club recently, will do far more good in controlling rabies among dogs which, incidentally, were not involved in any of the recent cases of rabies.

Certainly the Kennel Club and all the rest of us dog owners believe in rabies control (most of us are parents, too), but this high-handed dictatorial ordinance is not the way to get it.

Thanksgiving

Lincoln, Neb.

To the editor of The Lincoln Star:

Thank God for all His precious love,
For all His tender care,
Be grateful for your hopes and dreams
And blessings He has shared;
Lift up your heart for guidance clear,
Thank Him for light for He is near
And in your prayers lest you forget:
For Thine is the kingdom of heaven,
And the power and the glory forever.

OFF THE RECORD By Ed. Reed

"I'm convinced the reason he's so successful is just to show me what I missed by not marrying him."

Big 3 United In Secret Berlin Plan

...To Counter Communist Tactics

Berlin (AP)—The western Big 3 were reported firmly united behind a new secret plan to counter any Communist attempt to freeze them out of Berlin.

Diplomats said the agreement was reached within the past few days. This indicated the Allies had resolved any differences on how to react should the Russians hand over to the East Germans control of allied lifelines to isolated West Berlin.

Allied officials declined to spell out the details of their new plan, keeping the Communists guessing on what to expect.

Diplomats said, however, that under the plan the 3 would refuse to allow East Germany to replace Russia on the 4-power Allied Air Safety Center in West Berlin. This controls all air traffic in and out of Berlin.

Spelled Out

But East German Communist boss Walter Ulbricht, spelled out his intentions. While scoffing at western fears of a Communist blockade, he said the Allies would have to negotiate with his regime for free access to Berlin.

"If I want to travel to London, I must have the permission of the English government," Ulbricht said in an interview with a British newspaper. "And if the gentlemen want to travel to Berlin, they must have the permission of the government of the DDR (East Germany). That is just the way it is."

The Communist East German news agency ADN gave the interview official sanction by distributing it.

Ulbricht gave the impression the Soviets were about to hand over control at any minute. But the Russians themselves seemed to be moving cautiously, feeling out the Allies before taking the big step.

The U.S. Army quietly sent a lone truck down the 110-mile Autobahn linking Berlin with West Germany past Soviet guards at a border check point without encountering any trouble.

Legal Snag

Bonn, Germany (AP) — The Russians may have been forced to modify their plans for Berlin because they have belatedly discovered a legal snag, diplomatic sources said.

That conclusion was being drawn from the delay in delivery of the promised Russian memorandum on the future status of the divided city.

When Premier Nikita Khrushchev said two weeks ago the Russians were going to end the 4-power status of Berlin, he cited the 1945 Potsdam agreement, which he declared the Allies had broken.

But western lawyers quickly pointed out that the Potsdam agreement does not concern the status of Berlin. That, along with definition of the zones of occupation, was laid down in the 1944 agreement of the European Advisory Commission. This commission was preparing in the final months of World War II for the day of victory.

Study of this agreement by West German and Allied lawyers has convinced them that if the Russians break it they will endanger their whole legal position in Germany.

State Bar Assn. Willed $25,000 By Omaha Attorney

The Nebraska Bar Assn. will receive $25,000 under terms of the will of the late Daniel J. Gross, Omaha attorney, George Turner, clerk of the Supreme Court, has announced.

Turner, who also serves as secretary of the state bar group, said Gross' will stipulates that the money is to be devoted to charitable and welfare purposes of active, practicing Nebraska lawyers, their wives, widows and children.

Gross was long active in the Bar Association, having served as vice president and as a member of the group's house of delegates.

The will stated the fund may be administered according to any plan set up by the Association's governing body, Turner said.

Turner said Gross declared in his will he desired it to be a matter of public record he never felt the least suspicion that an opposing attorney tampered with the jury or that a judge had ever been dishonest during the 40 years he practiced law.

Brooks Decries Citizens' Apathy

Apathy in government was decried Tuesday by Governor-elect Ralph Brooks in an address before 105 members of the Lincoln Junior Chamber of Commerce.

Brooks said the "fight for good government belongs to all of us," but declared that such could not be attained until and unless the people of America wake up to their responsibilities and take some interest in the functions of government.

As of now, Brooks said, Americans "are becoming a race of people typified by the college professor who wrote 'Alice in Wonderland'."

Christmas is Coming

The sophisticated little Christmas angels pictured above are the handiwork of Mrs. Elizabeth McLean, instructor for the Lincoln Schools' adult home and family life classes, who has passed along a few "tricks of the trade" for fashioning the pretty creatures.

The angel on the wall at left is unique in that it is made from a corucopia basket, gilded and trimmed with glitter and sequins. The perky angel at right is a funnel covered with bright felt and sequins. Her head is a small styrofoam ball, and her curly locks are cut from a copper scouring pad. Gold wings and halo, and a bow of gold cording complete her ensemble.

The large gold angel is a work of art, but much easier to make than you would think. Her body is a cone of heavy paper which stands a foot tall. Staple the cone at the back and attach head and arms before covering the cone with metallic paper or aluminum foil.

To make the head, cut in half the cardboard core from a roll of toilet tissue. Cover the "head" with flesh-toned crepe paper, cut against the grain so it will stretch tautly around the cardboard. Glue the ends at the back and twist the excess paper at top and bottom, fastening with a drop of glue. When dry, trim the top ends of the paper flat. Smear the top of the head with glue and allow it to become "gummy" before adding a coiffure of curly Angel Hair. Twist a wire at the "neck" of the head and scotch tape the wire ends to the inside of the heavy paper cone.

A 14 inch length of No. 7 wire forms the arms. Loop the ends of the wire for the angel's hands and wrap the whole with ½ inch-wide crepe paper, cut across the grain so it will stretch tightly as you wrap. Scotch tape the wire "arms" to the top of the cone, then wrap the neck and shoulders in crepe paper to form a firm torso.

The angel's dress is a 12 inch-long strip of metallic netting. To gather, thread a thin wire through the netting and twist it snugly below the angel's arms. The sleeves are made the same from 6 inch lengths of the netting.

Cut a surplice collar, wings and halo from metallic foil and fasten with scotch tape.

The dainty angel of white and pink crepe paper and tulle at left is a smaller version of the large figure, and the "littlest angel" is made entirely of aluminum or metallic foil with a gold paper doily for a collar. Her head is a cotton ball covered with crepe paper, and her halo, a circlet of sequins set at a a jaunty angle on her Angel Hair curls.

CHATTER In The CORRIDOR

JEAN

BY JEAN MORRISON
Of Lincoln High School

Hello again,

There seems to be a lull in the activities and happenings around L.H.S. as the football season closes and the basketball season gets underway. Coach Weyand and his team have been practicing heartily and they are all working together toward making the Links another state championship team. Lincoln High's first game is with McCook High School on Dec. 3 at McCook.

The Joy Night Central committee which consists of 10 faculty members and 10 students, has been selected to choose the acts and decide upon a theme and backdrop for the 1958 Joy Night. Those selected to serve on the committee are: Seniors, Doug Franklin, Connie Mart, Joel Lundak, Linda Hellerich, Virginia Wadhams and Connie Martin; Juniors, Virginia Wheaton, Jane Keill, John Yost and Jim Roach. The ten faculty members are Mr. William Bogar, Mrs. Mary Boyle, Mr. Ivan Caldwell, Mr. Alva Cavett, Mrs. Corene Herbster, Mrs. Viola Houdek, Mr. Harry Kuklin, Mrs. Shirley Martin, Mrs. Susan Sheldon and Miss Dorcas Weatherby.

Sophomore class officers have been selected at Lincoln High. Congratulations to Biff Pheiff, president; Mike Sidell, vice president; Clare Bentall, secretary and Rose Marie Jacobs, treasurer.

Lincoln High was fortunate to have many representatives attend the State Music clinic held in Grand Island Nov. 20-22.

The Lincoln American Field Service recently announced the selection of Marshall Jones, junior from Lincoln High, to submit his application to the New York Board for selection of an Exchange Scholarship to New Zealand. The students selected will attend school in New Zealand the second semester, spend the remainder of the summer and return in August. It is possible for the United States to send approximately 100 students to New Zealand for this program.

Many activities are getting under way for the holiday season. The senior girls are busy planning for their annual Christmas and New Year teas, while the junior girls are preparing for the Thanksgiving dance and annual Christmas Ball.

The student council was in Omaha Saturday, Nov. 15, for the State Student Council Convention. The council is running Sherrill Geistlinger for state student council vice president. Best of luck, Sherrill!

Dear Abby . . .

Get Another Man, Sweetie!

Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: I got a man who is 12 years younger than I am, but he won't let me quit him and he says he can't marry me for the following reasons: His Mama died three years ago and before she died she left strict orders that he was not to marry until his Daddy got married, as she didn't want his Daddy left alone. His Daddy hasn't got anybody to marry and he isn't even looking. This means he can't marry me. He is 44 and I am 56 and am getting older every day. Please tell me what to do.

NO SPRING CHICKEN

DEAR NO: You'd be a dumb cluck to coop yourself up waiting for your boyfriend's Daddy to marry when he isn't even looking. Get another rooster on the roster.

☆ ☆ ☆

DEAR ABBY: I have a small one-chair barber shop. When I get through with my customers they will put on their ties and coats and by this time they have forgotten to pay me for their haircuts. I have lost money because I hate to ask them. I have asked a few times and they say they already paid me. Some get sore and pay me like they are paying me twice. What should I do?

UNPAID BARBER

DEAR UNPAID: The barber is supposed to shear the customer, but if you haven't the courage to ask for what is owed you, you can expect to get clipped. Don't start the next customer until you've collected from the last.

☆ ☆ ☆

DEAR ABBY: What are the rules of "Automobile Etiquette?" Is it ever proper for a couple when parking for a moonlight drive and the exchange of an occasional kiss to leave the car? My boyfriend often suggests that we leave the car, and I say it is not proper.

SWEET SIXTEEN

DEAR SWEET: (and if you want to stay as sweet as you are, listen carefully): The only time a girl leaves the car is to go into her own home!

☆ ☆ ☆

DEAR ABBY: My husband and I have been married 15 years and have four lovely children who are 5, 8, 10 and 12. My husband refuses to kiss me or show any signs of affection in front of the children. He says he was not raised that way. Why does he act like that? I think it is important to show your children that you love each other. Am I wrong or is he?

UNKISSED

DEAR UNKISSED: Your husband is the product of his own cool upbringing. There is nothing wrong with Mamma and Papa showing honest affection.

If you have a problem, write to Abigail Van Buren in care of this paper. She will be glad to answer your letter. For a personal reply, please enclose a stamped self-addressed envelope.

Ceremony On Tuesday

MRS. GARY AUSTIN TRUDEAU

Tall bouquets of chrysanthemums, carnations and gladioli in shades of pink appointed the candlelighted chancel of Trinity Methodist Church Tuesday evening, Nov. 25, for the wedding of Miss Barbara Gwene McDougall, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. F. McDougall, and Gary Austin Trudeau, son of Mrs. William Darr of Twinsburg, O., and of the late Austin W. Trudeau. The ceremony was solemnized at 7:30 o'clock by the Rev. Fred Loder of Adams assisted by the Rev. Laurence R. Davis.

Miss Georgia Vogel was the maid of honor, and Miss Jean Springer of Hastings, the bridesmaid, wore rose taffeta frocks fashioned with harem skirts accented by butterfly bustle bows. Cascades of pink carnations completed their ensembles. Mrs. Dean Fowler and Miss Marjorie Van Cleave lighted the candles, and the flower girl was Miss Vicki Marie Burns. Robert Burns carried the rings.

Serving as best man was James Shearer of Hershey, Pa., and the ushers were Robert Marsh, Miami, Fla.; Leonard Minowitz, Bronx, N.Y.; and Timothy Trudeau, Twinsburg, O., brother of the bridegroom.

The bride's gown of white Chantilly lace and tulle over satin was designed in the period mode. The long-sleeved bodice of lace was accented by a yoke of illusion edged with jeweled lace at the throatline, and the wide skirt of tulle tiers was completed by a draped peplum of lace tapering at the back into a chapel train. Her tulle veil was held by a crown of pearls and sequins, and she carried a cascade of white roses and gardenias.

Mr. and Mrs. Trudeau will make their home at 342 No. 35th. The bridegroom, who has been stationed at the Lincoln Air Force Base, will enter the University of Nebraska in January. Mrs. Trudeau attended Nebraska Wesleyan University, where she is a member of Delta Zeta, and the Lincoln School of Commerce.

There's Always Good News In Suburbia

COUNTRY CLUB MANOR

Dangerous Dan McGrew of lyric fame came to life, for a few moments at least, on Sunday evening when Dr. and Mrs. David Sanderson entertained at their home following a dinner party for which the Sandersons were host and hostess at the Lincoln Country Club.

Fourteen guests were invited for the evening of merriment, and we've heard from various guests that a delightful time was had by all. The highlight of the evening was a guest participation skit starring Dr. Leland Arnot as Dangerous Dan, Mrs. Glenn Johnston as the Lady Known As Lil and T. C. O'Donnell as the Miner. None of the actors or the narrator, Mrs. O'Donnell, had any inkling that they would be called upon to display their talents until a few moments before the enactment of the poem, but we understand that with the help of costumes and props supplied by the host and hostess, and honky tonk music for background mood, the one-night stand was a smashing success.

Mrs. John Horner of Denver arrived in the suburb last week to be the guest of her son-in-law and daughter, Dr. and Mrs. Leland Arnot, during the Thanksgiving holiday.

And joining Dr. and Mrs. Arnot for dinner on Thanksgiving Day will be Clayton Ofstad and Dr. Grace Beede, both of Vermillion, S. D., and Mr. and Mrs. Robert Sill.

Arriving from Chicago on Thursday will be Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Wallace and their son, Herbie, who will be the holiday guests of Mr. and Mrs. Ray Beaumont.

Motoring from Country Club Manor on Wednesday will be Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Luikart, Jr., and their children, Gus and Kathy, who plan to spend Thanksgiving with Mr. Luikart's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Luikart of Sioux City, Ia.

COUNTRY CLUB TERRACE

Visiting Mr. and Mrs. Donald P. Mason this week end will be Miss Margaret Thomas and Miss Doris Thomas of Lebanon, Kan. The guests will arrive for Thanksgivnig and return home on Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Richard Huebner wil be spending the holidays visiting Mrs. Huebner's parents, Mr. and Mrs R. W. Tyson of Murray, and Mr. Huebner's parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Huebner of Plattsmouth, who will be host and hostess at a family dinner at their home on Thursday.

INDIAN VILLAGE

Lt. and Mrs. James Miller are announcing the birth of their daughter, Robin Elise, who arrived at Lincoln General Hospital on Saturday, Nov. 1.

Among the young lady's most ardent admirers are her brother, two and a half year-old Jeffery, and her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Miller and Mr. and Mrs. H. W. Helmcamp, all of Sugar Land, Tex.

Incidentally, Mr. and Mrs. Helmcamp, who have been houseguests of their son-in-law and daughter, returned to Texas last week.

Another member of the talcum powder set in Indian Village is Miss Amy Jo Martin, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. F. William Martin, Jr., who was born at Lincoln General Hospital on Saturday, Nov. 1.

Amy's paternal grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Fred W. Martin, and Mr. and Mrs. Joseph W. Hill are the maternal grandparents. All are of Omaha.

League Provisionals Honored

Sustaining members of the Junior League of Lincoln were hostesses Tuesday afternoon when they entertained at their annual fall tea honoring the provisional members of the league.

The tea was held at the home of Mrs. James Stuart, and chairman of the hostess committee was Mrs. Richard Kosman.

PTA's Hear Speakers

At the monthly meeting of TRINITY LUTHERAN PTA last Friday evening, a program was given based on the theme, "How Christian is Your Family?" The program was opened by Mr. and Mrs. Ed Schmieding, who led a devotional service, and speaker was E. W. Scheer, school principal.

A dramatization, "A Time To Give Thanks," was presented by 5th and 6th grade pupils.

Hostesses for the social hour were Mrs. Gaylord Wilson, Mrs. Bill Dayton, Mrs. Carl Kamprath, Mrs. Henry Schmidt and Mrs. Elmer Steil.

Mrs. Velma Hodder, coordinator of elementary education for the Lincoln Schools, spoke on, "The New Approach in Arithmetic," at the Tuesday evening meeting of CLINTON PTA. The program also included songs by the boys' octet of Whittier School directed by Ted Thompson.

At the close of the evening, refreshments were served by mothers of 5th graders with Mrs. R. D. Lohr as chairman.

The members of EVERETT PTA met Tuesday evening at the school to hear an address, "Youth Fitness," by Dr. John C. Thompson of the Board of Education. A group of students presented book discussions, and a program of songs was given by the 8th and 9th grade boys' glee club under the direction of Miss Velma Smith.

Following the meeting, the PTA held a bake sale.

Guest speaker at the monthly meeting of HUNTINGTON PTA on Tuesday evening was Royal Henline of the state department of education.

The annual Fathers' Night program was opened with a devotional service by Dr. Vance Rogers, president of Nebraska Wesleyan University. Serving as hosts for the social hour were fathers of 5th grade pupils.

Was Hostess

Mrs. J. C. Nelson was hostess to the members of the Lenox Club last Monday afternoon at her home. The afternoon hours were spent with games followed by refreshments.

Married At Church Service

The wedding of Miss Rosalyn Miriam Streich, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Martin Streich of Murdock, and Lloyd Vogler, son of Mr. and Mrs. George Vogler, Jr., of Louisville, took place Tuesday evening, Nov. 25, at the Evangelical United Brethren Church in Murdock. Chrysanthemums in shades of yellow and bronze formed the background for the 7:30 o'clock service, which was solemnized by the Rev. R. A. Heim in the presence of 200 guests.

Wearing identically-styled frocks of crystalette over taffeta in the bittersweet tone were Miss Ramona Streich, who was her sister's maid of honor, and the bridesmaids, Miss Arlyne Streich of Ralston, and Miss Carol Vogler of Mesa, Ariz., who carried gold and bronze chrysanthemums. Miss Beverly Ann Streich and Miss Nancy Sutton were the flower girls, and lighting the chancel candles were Miss Kay Mann and Miss Donna Mae Miller.

Lawrence Vogler of Louisville served as best man, and seating the guests were Terry Vavrina, Clayton Streich and Jack White, Louisville; Robert James, Lincoln; and Perry Bronn, Bennet.

The bride appeared in a gown of white Italian silk touched with imported lace. The sculptured bodice was designed with a portrait neckline bordered with lace, and the sleeves were long and tapered. The lace motif was repeated in the trim of the full skirt, which ended in a whisper train, and her veil of illusion was held by a halo crown of seed pearls. She carried white chrysanthemums.

The couple will reside in Lincoln where the bridegroom is attending the University of Nebraska. Mrs. Vogler is a former student at Nebraska Wesleyan University and is a senior at Bryan Memorial Hospital School of Nursing.

Nebraska Clubs Hear Speakers

The ENDICOTT WOMAN'S CLUB was host to the 34th annual convention of the Jefferson County Federation of Women's Clubs which was held on Wednesday, Oct. 8, with Mrs. Reuben Gretzinger of Steele City, the county president, presiding.

The theme of the convention was, "Man Is Not Creature of Circumstances; Circumstances Are the Creatures of Man."

Speaking during the morning session was Mrs. Robert Bell of Bellwood, first vice president of the Fourth District, who chose as her topic, "Program Planning." Following the covered dish luncheon served at the Endicott Methodist Church, Mrs. Allen Whitney of Bellwood presented a talk on, "The Flag," and, "Parliamentary Usages."

Also featured during the afternoon session was a musical skit presented by the Wymore Woman's Club.

Other Jefferson County officers include: Mrs. Cap Fairchild of Endicott, vice president; Mrs. Harold Vance of Fairbury, secretary; Mrs. Kenneth Swett of Endicott, treasurer; Mrs. C. B. Callaway of Fairbury, parliamentarian; and Mrs. Edwin Weise of Jansen, hospitality chairman.

Mrs. M. M. Jennings, Jr., presided at the monthly meeting of the DAVENPORT WOMAN'S CLUB which was held at the Davenport Library on Tuesday, Oct. 28.

During the evening Mrs. M. M. Jennings, Sr., reviewed Willa Cather's novel, "Death Comes to the Archbishop," and showed slides of the locale of the book. Other books reviewed included Virginia Faulkner's "Roundup," presented by Mrs. C. C. Camp, and Ruth Franchere's "Willa," reviewed by Mrs. J. L. Cameron.

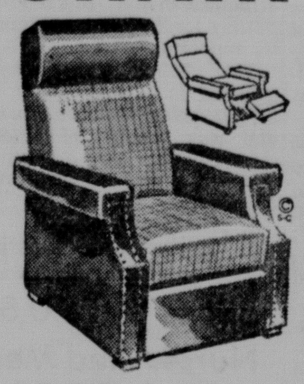

We Hear That

Making plans for the Thanksgiving holiday are Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Sharrick who will have as their guests their son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. P. D. Dunning, and their four children, Dee Anne, Kiki, Chuck and Flip, of Long Prairie, Minn.

The Sharricks also entertained houseguests recently when their visitors were Judge and Mrs. John N. Free of Wichita, Kan. Judge Free is a past international president of Optimists.

Charles Kettering, Famed Inventor, Dies

Self-Starter One Of Gifts To World

Dayton, Ohio (AP) — Charles F. Kettering, 82, the engineering genius whose mechanical gifts to the world included the automobile self-starter, died Tuesday.

Kettering

Death came to the famed "Boss Kett" in his Dayton home at 2:43 p.m. (EST) after only a brief illness. He suffered a slight stroke Sunday, and went into a coma earlier Tuesday after a second stroke.

The inventor's genius had won him worldwide honors—and a fortune estimated at many millions. In recent years he had been using this fortune to establish foundations for scientific studies with the aim of helping all mankind.

He held 140 patents on his own inventions and improvements on the inventions of others which revolutionized a dozen industries.

Remained Active

He had been head of the research division of General Motors Corp. and he remained active long after he announced his formal retirement in 1947.

With the inventor when he died was his only son, Eugene, of Hinsdale, Ill. His wife died in 1946.

Kettering's funeral will be held in Christ Episcopal Church, Dayton, at 2 p.m., Friday. He will be buried at Woodland Cemetery.

Kettering was already an established inventor and development engineer when he entered the automotive field. He had collaborated with E. A. Deeds in developing the electrical cash register for the National Cash Register Co. of Dayton. He left that firm in 1910 to form the Dayton Engineering Laboratories Co., later known as "Delco," developers of farm light and water systems.

Helped Shape Auto's Future

But he got into the automotive field even before General Motors absorbed Delco in 1919. When "Boss Kett" arrived, the auto industry was still in its formative stage, and he had a big hand in shaping the motor car's future.

One of his first tasks was to develop an auto ignition system which replaced the unreliable magneto.

Burlington Coaling Station Succumbs To Wreckers After Short Resistance

By Virgil Falloon

A landmark of the era of steam locomotives was top to the ground Tuesday.

The giant 300-ton coaling station in the Burlington Railroad yards west of Lincoln will be cut up for scrap metal.

Ironically, the "coup de grace" was administered by a diesel locomotive, which pulled the 87-foot high steel structure to the ground after cutting torches had weakened its supports.

The coaling station, constructed in 1938 at a cost of $57,893, held 6 carloads of coal and was capable of simultaneously servicing 3 locomotives. Its reach extended over 4 tracks.

Idle last 18 months

J. C. Grisinger, superintendent of the Burlington's Omaha-Lincoln-Wymore division, said the coaling station had not been used the past 18 months, when the last of the railroad's coal-burning locomotives was retired.

The Burlington began a dieselization program in 1936, beginning with its passenger service and then freight locomotives.

Grisinger said approximately three-fourths of the old roundhouse will also be razed soon.

Tough Battle

The coaling station resisted first efforts to bring it to its knees. Although weakened by cutting torches, the structure succeeded in snapping the cable attached to the diesel locomotives.

Railroad crews refastened the cable as a Northwestern Metal Co. crew again applied cutting torches.

Then the diesel pulled again on the cable and the giant coaling station tumbled and crumpled to the ground.

Perhaps a dozen pigeons flew from inside as it settled in a cloud of dust.

Special Thanks

Seymour, Ind. (AP) — Seymour's only Negro church will say a special "thanks" to the community's white people Thanksgiving Day.

It will provide turkey dinners for about 300 needy, homeless and indigent whites.

Through the schools, the church has invited each needy child and his family.

Statewide CD Meets Planned

A series of Civil Defense meetings will be conducted throughout Nebraska during December and January for target and support area CD directors, Austin Bacon, deputy state Civil Defense director, has announced.

Bacon, who will conduct the meetings, said they would center on instructing the directors in methods of establishing and implementing survival plans.

The meetings, which also will be attended by county and city directors, will be held in Omaha, Dec. 10; Norfolk, Dec. 17; Hastings, Jan. 7; North Platte, Jan. 13; Sidney, Jan. 15; Alliance, Jan. 17, and Valentine, Jan. 19.

A course for training instructors in radiological monitoring will be held in Grand Island Jan. 10 and 11 and Jan. 18-22.

A nation-wide unannounced civil defense warning test will be held sometime in December, and a statewide test in February, Bacon said.

Bones Of 21 U.S. Nurses And Men Found By Patrol

Sydney (AP)—A Dutch patrol has penetrated the fabled Shangri La valley of Dutch New Guinea and found the bones of 21 U.S. nurses and airmen who died in a World War II plane crash.

The discovery was announced by Dutch officials in Port Moresby, New Guinea.

Five aboard the plane survived and were cared for by primitive natives. Two died before paratroops were dropped in the almost inaccessible valley to clear a runway 7 weeks later.

Survivors then were brought out by glider but the U.S. forces were unable to retrieve the bodies in the wrecked plane.

Cadillac

Even Newer from Behind the Wheel!

Odds are you've seen the new 1959 Cadillac by now—perhaps sweeping regally past you on the boulevard . . . perhaps making its majestic arrival at a fine club or hotel.

And odds are, too, that you've wondered if this 1959 "car of cars" could be as superlative in performance as it is in appearance.

Well, once you've found out for yourself, we think the truth will very likely amaze you. For this Cadillac is even newer from behind the wheel!

You will sense it, in fact, the moment you hear the whisper-quiet response of its great new engine.

And your sentiment will grow to conviction as you discover the other wonders of Cadillac's new performance . . . responsiveness so immediate and so silken in every driving range that it is difficult to believe . . . handling ease so remarkable that you follow the curves and corners with the lightest imaginable movement of hand and wheel . . . a quality of ride so smooth and level and quiet that even the byways travel like boulevards.

Indeed, the evidence will be overwhelming—a journey at its wheel is the world's most glorious interval between start and stop.

* * *

And the proof of all this is no farther away than your nearest authorized Cadillac dealer.

He'll be delighted to make you his guest—to explain the virtues of each of Cadillac's thirteen new Fleetwood-crafted models, including the fabulous new Eldorado Brougham—and to let you take the wheel for yourself.

Stan Delaplane's POSTCARD

The book publishers of New York have finally zeroed in on your sentimental correspondent: They have sent me a book called "A Treasury of Golden Memories."

"Shoot, if you must, this old gray head

"But spare your country's flag," she said.

Oh me, oh my, dear. Those were the days.

☆ ☆

The book publishers send me a book from time to time. Just how they figure which book is a fine mystery. I think it gives an indication of the character they think they are dealing with.

I get things like "Pocahontas." and "Cooking With Leftovers."

I get "Dog Training Made Easy" and " Short History of Rome." In the same mail. It keeps me leaping to keep up with my type casting.

☆ ☆ ☆

Well, nothing is so fine these memorable days as a golden memory. My book is filled with stirring remarks. Which I recall remarking on patriotic days before my assembled classmates.

"Give me liberty or give me death!"

"While the Union lasts, we have high, exciting, gratifying prospects spread out before us, for us and our children."

(We had no children at that time, being somewhere in the kite-flying brackets. But we gave such statements the solemn tones they deserved, our voices were cracking and it was rough going.

"Ay, tear her tattered ensign down!

"Long has it waved on high,

"And many an eye has danced to see

"That banner in the sky."

Three of us did that "Old Ironsides" in unison. We dressed in sailor suits. At the conclusion—"Nail to the mast her holy flag"—we raised clenched fists.

It was strictly Swift's Premium. But our parents cheered like mad. Not a dry eye in the house.

We were followed by a fat little girl with glasses who did "The World is Too Much With Us."

I do not see my own offspring following in my histrionic footsteps. Or possibly declaiming stirring thoughts is not part of modern schooling.

The other evening, we all went over to a reception at the school. Moving from classroom to classroom. Meeting teachers, and my teen-age daughter pointing out the blessings of education.

They have electric scanning machines to figure how fast you read.

For a short time when my daughter was small, I had high hopes of her being a child movie star. She was one of eight children who played the part of "The Giant's Evil Thoughts."

"Nothing came of it, though. And I had to give up my own lofty thoughts of being manager of a million-dollar moppet.

As for my 3-year-old boy, he is stalled on "patty-cake." He likes it. And he sees no reason to learn anything else.

It would appear I am the only orator in the family.

"O Captain! My Captain! our fearful trip is done. . ."

I tried that one in the shower this morning. Came out ringing.

NWU Debaters Compile 7-1 Meet Record

Vermillion, S. D.—An outstanding 7-1 record was compiled by Wesleyan University's neophyte debate squad against experienced combinations at the University of South Dakota speech conference here.

The Wesleyan affirmative team of freshmen Carolyn White, Watertown, S. D. and Evelyn Reed, Waverly, won from Northern State Teachers College, Sioux Falls College, Chadron State Teachers College and South Dakota State College for a sweep of all 4 starts.

The negative combination of freshmen Doug Harman and Rod McMahan, both of Lincoln, won from South Dakota State, Midland and Northern State Teachers, but lost to a duo from Iowa State University.

Harmon and McMahan formed one of 3 teams designated as superior in the tournament and Harman was rated as a superior debater.

In individual competition, Miss White was ranked excellent in oral interpretation; McMahan an excellent in extemporaneous and Arlene Hoppens, Harvard junior, and Harman as excellent in discussion competition.

The 4 Wesleyan freshmen will compete at the Northwestern University cross examination debate tournament in Evanston Dec. 5-6.

County Canvasses Totaled:

Brooks Vote Margin Now 1,607

By The Associated Press

Ralph Brooks, Democratic governor-elect, defeated Republican Gov. Victor E. Anderson by a margin of 1,607 votes, according to a new Associated Press compilation of figures certified by the county canvassing boards.

The AP tabulations of the vote, as canvassed by county canvassing boards and forwarded for final action to the State Canvassing Board in Lincoln give:

Brooks 211,424; Anderson 209,817.

The new compilations lengthened Brooks' lead over the previous unofficial count which gave him a 1,473 margin.

A number of counties revised their unofficial figures before certifying the vote to the state board which meets next Monday to act on the vote cast in the Nov. 4 election. No major changes were found however in the new county figures.

Margins Little Changed

Tabulation of certified figures on the close contests for lieutenant governor and state treasurer left the unofficial margins little changed.

Democrat Richard R. Larson was elected state treasurer over Republican Monroe Bixler by a lead of 2,265 votes, and Republican Lieut. Gov. Dwight Burney maintained a lead of 4,520 over Democrat Frank Sorrell, the new Associated Press tabulations show.

'Phony Labor Issue' Cited By Morrison

Defeated senatorial candidate Frank Morrison blamed injection of "a phony labor issue" by the Republicans as the reason that Democrats did not completely sweep the state in recent elections.

Democrat Morrison charged that the Republicans, "spearheaded by Sen. Carl Curtis," were responsible for bringing the issue into the elections. Morrison, defeated Nov. 4 by Republican incumbent Sen. Roman Hruska, leveled his main attack Tuesday against Sen. Curtis, who is up for election in 1960.

"During the past week Sen. Curtis has been mighty vocal in condemning union delays of an NLRB election involving a Nebraska trucking firm," Morrison noted, referring to the testimony of State Purchasing Agent Tom Coffey before the Senate Rackets Committee of which Curtis is a member.

"This stalling tactic which Curtis now seems to oppose was the target of this provision of the Kennedy-Ives Bill," Morrison added, explaining that "last spring when he could have done something about eliminating the stalling of NLRB elections by unions and employers, Curtis was not only mute but he voted against the provision in the Kennedy-Ives Labor Reform Bill. . ."

"This sharp difference between legislative non-performance and headline shouting does little to restore public confidence in Nebraska's Republican leadership. . .", Morrison concluded.

ASSAULT CASE APPEAL FILED

Clayton Laverne Shepperd has told the State Supreme Court the Loup County District Court erred when it sentenced him to two years in the State Reformatory upon conviction of assault with intent to rape.

In the transcript of an appeal filed with the high court, Shepperd said the district court found him guilty of the charge Oct. 14, 1958.

The district court erred in excluding evidence relevant to the incident which occurred in 1957 and involved a 15-year-old girl, the transcript said.

At the time of the incident in question, Shepperd was 18.

Budget Talks Expected To Start Dec. 8

Governor Victor Anderson plans to meet with State Tax Commissioner Fred Herrington Monday to set-up a schedule for budget hearings on state agencies with the first hearings expected to begin the week of Dec. 8.

Herrington will be out of town the remainder of this week and Gov. Anderson leaves for Chicago late Monday to attend a 4-day conference of the executive committee of the Governors Conference.

Members of the executive committee of state chiefs will be formulating plans for the annual governors conference held late each spring.

All agencies of state government are required to present their budgets for the coming biennium to the governor who then makes his recommendations for expenditures to the Legislature.

Gov. Anderson is expected to invite Democratic Governor-elect Ralph Brooks to sit in on the hearings.

Brooks also would be required to present a budget message to the Legislature.

Alliance Air Field Building Plans To U.S.

State Airport Engineer W. J. Kreuscher announced Tuesday that preliminary plans and specifications for the construction of an administration building at Alliance's municipal airport have been forwarded to the Civil Aeronautics Administration.

The project also includes extension of utilities, fencing and auto parking area.

The status of other airport projects includes:

Beatrice—The extension of the northwest-southeast runway and apron is complete except seeding.

Broken Bow—Preliminary plans and specifications are being prepared for construction of a paved northwest-southeast runway, taxiway and additional apron.

Chadron — A tentative allocation of federal funds has been approved for construction of a paved northwest-southeast apron.

Columbus—Bids will soon be received for the extension of the northwest-southeast runway and taxiways and apron. The project also includes land acquisition, clear zones, auto parking area and extension of the runway lighting system.

Grand Island—Construction of a paved connecting taxiway and access road is complete except for permanent seeding. The restaurant addition to the administration building is 90% complete.

Holdrege—A proposed project includes the construction of a paved north-south runway, taxiway and additional apron. Land acquisition for the runway and clear zones is included.

Imperial — Hard-surfacing for the northwest-southeast runway, taxiway and apron is complete. The project also includes clear zone acquisition.

Omaha—Bids will be received soon for the installation of obstruction lights for the northwest-southeast and north-south runways. The project also includes clear zones and obstruction removal for the north-south runway. Acquisition of clear zones for the northwest-southeast runway is 60% complee.

Sidney—The paved extension and widening of the northwest-southeast runway, taxiway and apron is complete except for permanent seeding next spring.

Davenport Files Brief In Flood Damage Case

The village of Davenport has told the State Supreme Court the Thayer County District Court erred in finding the city liable for $600 damages caused a resident's home by flooding of Davenport's main sewer line on Thanksgiving Day in 1955.

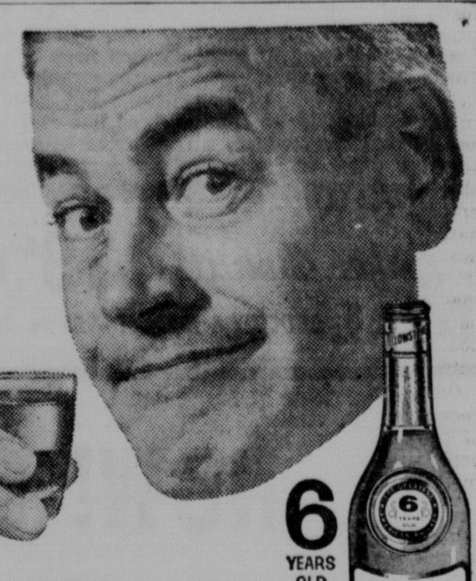

The sewer was stopped and flooded the basement of Mrs. Mary Buck's home, according to a brief filed by the city in its appeal of the district court's decision.

West Suggests International Force To Police Atom Test Ban

Red China Would Get Inspections

Geneva (AP)—The West suggested to Russia the establishment of an international detective force free to go anywhere—even into Red China—to see that any ban on nuclear weapon tests is kept.

The United States and Britain unveiled their plan by asking 13 questions to sound out the Russians.

Soviet sources said Russian delegate Semyon Tsarapkin "partly answered some of the questions raised;" western informants said he discussed the points rather than giving any firm answers.

Striding from the two-hour meeting, U.S. Ambassador James J. Wadsworth told newsmen "we are moving."

Must Participate

The western document put forward these views on a control organization:

All major nations—including Communist China—must participate. Specific operating rules must be defined. The organization must have unrestricted control of some 180 observation posts scattered around the world. The international personnel of these posts must have complete freedom of movement for on-the-spot investigations without any interference from the country in which they are located.

Other details dealt with the recruitment of personnel, size of the observation posts and communications and transport matters.

Attitude

Behind the whole problem of bringing other nations into the organization looms the question of Communist China's attitude. Because of China's size a control system would not function efficiently without Peiping's cooperation.

An American source said it would be possible to set up an organization in which both the United States and Red China participated despite the fact that the two powers have no diplomatic relations.

East-West experts meeting in Geneva last summer agreed it was technically feasible to police a ban on nuclear weapons tests. The scientists made some recommendations on how to do this, but left the details, to the present 3-power meeting.

Faltered

Tacoma, Wash. (AP)— City Clerk Josephine Melton did fine until she got to the signature of a letter she was reading at a council meeting.

The letter praised the Tacoma Police Department for its cooperation during President Eisenhower's recent brief stay here.

"Dwight. . . er, Dwight. . ." Mrs. Melton faltered as she started to read the signature, then turned to the mayor and asked for help on the scrawled last name.

It brought down the house.

Bellevue Will Appeal Sewage Work Halting

A Bellevue delegation will appeal a State Health Department order halting sewage system extension construction in the Missouri River city, the State Health Department said.

The department said the delegation would meet with department officials Wednesday to explore means of lifting the order.

Bellevue was one of 6 cities on the Missouri River ordered by the department to halt sewage extension construction until proper disposal plants had been built.

Other cities were Plattsmouth, Niobrara, Nebraska City, South Sioux City and Dakota City.

Plattsmouth is the only city which has indicated it would proceed with disposal plant construction at the earliest possible date, the department said.

Kearney, Peru Buildings In Two Years

The State Normal Board probably can begin construction of two proposed buildings at Kearney and Peru State Teachers Colleges during the next biennium if the Legislature continues the Board's present share of state building funds, E. Albin Larson, Board secretary, said Tuesday.

The Legislature voted in 1957 to continue the special building levy for 10 years, but reduced the levy from 1.1 mills to .75 of a mill. The Board was allocated 20% of such revenue.

Larson said this percentage of the buiding fund coupled with the Board's unexpended balance would allow construction of the buildings.

A new physical education plant has been proposed for Kearney at an estimated cost of $1,091,000, not including equipment. Estimates on equipment costs total about $91,000.

Cost of an industrial arts building at Peru has been estimated at about $411,000.

Larson made the statement during his preparation of the Board's 1959-61 budget request.

Pay Hike Refused

Quebec (AP) — A man called for jury duty put up a fight for higher pay. Georges Marcoux asked for $15 a day, $10 above the going rate. He told Judge Wilfrid Edge the Juror's task is one of highest importance and should be adequately rewarded. Judge Edge said it is a citizen's duty to act as juror when called and dismissed him.

State Officials' Succession To Be Subject Of Bill

The 1959 legislature will be asked to provide for statutory succession of state and local government officials, Deputy State Civil Defense Director Austin Bacon said Tuesday.

Bacon told a Civil Defense briefing session for state department heads that Col. Doane F. Kiechel, state Civil Defense planner, is drawing up permissive legislation to provide for the automatic succession of state and local governmental officials.

"Our goal," Bacon said, "is to have the state take the necessary legislative and legal steps to establish automatic succession to a depth of at least 7 for the governor and at least 3 for other state officials by the end of 1959."

City Officials, Too

Adequate succession also must be provided for officials of major city governments and counties by the end of 1960, Bacon said.

Bacon said a state senator would sponsor the bill, but that he was not at liberty at this time to divulge the senator's name.

The succession of governmental officials is necessary, Bacon said, because their responsibilities will be magnified in case of nuclear attack on Nebraska.

"If one goes," Bacon said, "we've just got to have a replacement for him."

To implement the plan, Gov. Victor Anderson designated 17 state and local officials emergency government officers to serve in case of attack.

Appointed acting target area commanders were William Latta, Hastings; Mrs. Marjorie Beerman, Dakota City; Richard A. Vestecka, Lincoln; Sol Willis, Sidney; and William D. Noyes, Omaha.

Acting support area commanders are Pelham McGee, Fremont; Ed Maxwell, Beatrice; Dr. Floyd Sneller, Hastings; and George A. Smith, Scottsbluff.

Still to be named will be a support area chief for the west-central area of Nebraska including the North Platte, valentine and McCook areas.

The communications director for the Omaha Police Department, George Winkler, was appointed chief of communications in emergency government.

$25,750 Damages Awarded School

Lincoln Star Special

Beatrice, Neb.—A District Court jury, after 6 hours of deliberation, Tuesday awarded the Holmesville school district $25,750 damages in its suit against Grosshans and Petersen, Marysville, Kan., quarry operators.

The school district presented a long line of witnesses during 8 days of hearing to support the claim that blasting operations at the Grosshans and Petersen quarry near Holmesville had permanently damaged the school building.

Damages of $58,601 had been asked from the firm.

TIM TAM TOPS 3-YEAR-OLDS

Round Table Top '58 Nag

New York (AP)—Round Table, the 4-year-old colt owned by Travis M. Kerr of Oklahoma City, was named 1958 Horse of the Year Tuesday in the 23rd annual poll of the Morning Telegraph and Daily Racing Form racing experts.

The durable bay son of Princequillo-Knight's Daughter, by Sir Cosmo, received 19 first place ballots out of 34.

Round Table, who became the greatest money winning horse in the world when he won the $123,850 Hawthorne Gold Cup in Chicago Oct. 11, also was voted the best handicap horse, and best grass course horse of the year.

Round Table has earned $1,336,364, surpassing the $1,288,565 picked up by Nashua before he retired in 1956.

First Landing, who won 10 of 11 races and became the greatest money winning juvenile in history, was the unanimous choice as best 2-year-old. The favorite for the 1959 Kentucky Derby earned $369,460.

Round Table is at Santa Anita, where he is awaiting the racing meet opening Dec. 26. First Landing has been sent to Florida, and will point for the Flamingo at Hialeah and the Florida Derby at Gulfstream Park, two rich winter races leading up to the Kentucky Derby.

In other divisions, the Calumet Farm's Tim Tam was an overwhelming choice for the 3-year-old title; Mrs. Charles Ulrick Bay's Idun received most votes for the 3-year-old filly championship, J. Graham Brown's Bornastar was voted the best handicap filly or mare, the Wheatley Stable's Bold Ruler got the best sprinter title, Mrs. Ogden Phipps' Neji repeated as the steeplechase champ, and Reginald N. Webster's Quill was voted the top 2-year-old filly.

Bill Russell Blasts N.C. Segregation

Charlotte, N.C. (AP) — Bill Russell, 6-10 Negro star of the Boston Celtics professional basketball team, leveled a blast at segregation practices he encountered here.

The former All-America and Olympic star and his Boston team defeated Minneapolis in a National Basketball Assn. game here Monday night.

Russell told the Charlotte News:

"I don't believe in segregation. It's against my principles. I came down here with my team and had to eat and sleep apart from them. I was shocked and hurt. I don't think we'll ever come back."

Celtic Coach Red Auerbach said it was Russell's first trip south with the Celtics, but he had trouble once before in St. Louis where a restaurant refused to serve the team with Russell along.

Said Auerbach, "The State Department has asked him to make a special foreign tour as an official good will ambassador. He received all these honors one minute, then suddenly has trouble getting a place to stay and eat.

"As for never coming back, of course, Russell can't speak for the team. Only one man, our owner, can do that. I would imagine if we returned and Bill didn't want to come we would simply leave him behind."

Russell and teammates K. C. Jones and Ben Swain stayed at a Negro hotel while the other Celtics spent the night at a downtown hotel. Elgin Baylor, Negro star of the Minneapolis team, also stayed at the Negro hotel.

McDonald Out

Philadelphia (AP) — Tommy McDonald, the Philadelphia Eagles' pass catching halfback, won't be playing this Sunday against New York, and maybe not the rest of the National Football League season.

The former Oklahoma star was injured in the 3rd quarter of last Sunday's game at Cleveland when he stretched high for a pass. X-rays disclosed a shoulder dislocation.

Sooners Dominate League Team; 2 Huskers On 2nd

By The Associated Press

The University of Oklahoma Sooners, following an 11-year habit, dominated the Associated Press Big Eight Conference all-star football team by gaining 5 spots on the first mythical eleven.

Bob Harrison, senior center of the champion Sooners, was the only unanimous choice of linemen by writers, coaches and others participating in the selections. Other Sooners making the first team were tackle Gilmer Lewis; guard Dick Corbitt; fullback Prentice Gautt and end Ross Coyle.

Mizzou Soph

Missouri, which finished second in the conference, and 3rd place Colorado each won two berths. Missouri scored with end Danny LaRose only sophomore on the first unit, and senior guard Charles Rash. The Colorado nominees were tackle Jack Himelwright and quarterback Boyd Dowler.

Two of the finest competitors to show in the midlands in many years, halfbacks Homer Floyd of Kansas and Dwight Nichols of Iowa State rounded out the first team.

3 Repeaters

Only players repeating from the mythical all stars of last year were Harrison, also a red hot All-America candidate, Rash and Nichols. Injuries hurt the chances of Hank Kuhlmann, Missouri full-back, and John Wooten, Colorado guard, both first teamers in 1957, Howard Cook, Colorado's rabbit back, and a number of others.

Nichols, 164-pound junior from Knoxville, Iowa, had the league's rushing championship clinched after 9 games with 707. Tailback Nichols proved his durability by carrying the ball 31 times for 138 yards against Oklahoma and 28 times for 116 yards against Kansas State on successive Saturdays.

Floyd Lauded

Floyd, 171-pound senior from Massillon, Ohio, won the conference pass catching derby with 15 catches for 307 yards. He was still more valuable to Kansas over the season, however, as a defender, making numerous stops that staved off enemy touchdowns.

Dowler, a 6-foot-4 senior from Cheyenne, Wyo., was perhaps the most versatile of the all stars. A fine passer and receiver, Dowler was a top blocker and defender as well.

The 196-pound Gautt, Oklahoma's first Negro athlete, found himself in midseason to spark Oklahoma to crushing victories as the Sooners closed out their championship campaign and won a repeat trip to the Orange Bowl.

Guard Pick Tough

Traffic was toughest at the guards where Rash and Corbitt had little, if any advantage over David Noblitt, Kansas State's sophomore, and Don Chadwick, Missouri senior who played exceptionally well despite severe injuries.

Players of Oklahoma State, a new member of the Big Eight but ineligible for the football championship until 1960, were not considered for the all conference selections.

OVERWHELMING CHOICE

Cubs' Banks MVP In NL

Boston (AP)—Ernie Banks, the Chicago Cubs' home-run hitting shortstop, Tuesday was named the National League's Most Valuable Player of 1958 by an overwhelming margin.

The 27-year-old slugger, who set a major league record for shortstops by crashing 47 homes in his 5th full season with the Cubs, polled 16 of the 24 first place votes cast by members of the Baseball Writers' Assn. of America in the 8 National League cities.

Named on every ballot, Banks piled up 283 points, the highest total since Willie Mays won the MVP in 1954.

Mays, the San Francisco Giants' fleet centerfielder, was runnerup in this year's voting between the end of the regular season and the start of the World Series. He drew 185 points and was the only other player listed on every ballot.

Hank Aaron of the pennant-winning Milwaukee Braves was 3rd with 166 points, followed by Frank Thomas of the Pittsburgh Pirates with 143 and southpaw ace Warren Spahn of the Braves with 108.

Stan Musial, the St. Louis Cardinals' 3-time MVP winner, finished far down the list in 12th place with a mere 39 points.

Banks joins Marty Marion, former St. Louis great, as the only shortstop to capture the coveted award since the baseball writers took over the voting in 1931. Marion won in the war year of 1944 despite a .267 batting average.

In addition, Banks is only the second member of a second division club to become the league's MVP. The Cubs finished in a tie with the Cards for 5th last season. Hank Sauer won the award in 1952 as a member of the 5th-place Cubs.

Banks, a slender 6-foot, 180-pounder from Dallas, Tex., also led the league in runs batted in with 129, a record for shortstops in his circuit. He batted .313 while playing in all 154 games.

"I'm tickled to death," Banks said when advised of the award by telephone by BBWAA Secretary-Treasurer Hy Hurwitz. "Oohhh, that's really something. I figured I'd have to do a whole lot to win the MVP and I didn't think I did enough, although this was my best year."

His favorite player? Stan Musial.

"He is my idol," Ernie said. "He is a gentleman both on and off the field."

Ice Opener Saturday Stiff Test

Saturday night's opener for Professional Hockey at Lincoln's Pershing Municipal Auditorium will provide a rugged test for the Lincoln-Minneapolis Culbertsons.

Rochester's Mustangs, the visiting outfit, is practically the same team that won last year's U.S. Central Hockey League championship by winning their final 14 games in a row. The speedy Mustangs are coached this season by a 27-year old Canadian, Ken Johannson, who thinks Rochester is one of the top contenders for the league crown.

Rochester trounced Des Moines, 10-2, last Saturday in the first U.S.C.H.L. game of the year with Arley Carlson, in his 10th season with the Mustangs, turning in a hat trick. Carlson was the top scorer in the league last year. Other vets back for Rochester include former New York Ranger ace Art Strobel, Tom Yurkovich, Swede Lund and Arnie Bauer.

The 4-team loop swings into full action Saturday. The locals' outing against defending champion Rochester begins at 8:15.

201 Triplicate

Bob Simmons, bowling in the Rosewilde Industrial League Tuesday night, scored a triplicate—and it was a dandy.

He had games of 201-201-201 en route to his 603 series.

Johnson To Sub

Chicago (AP)—Harold Johnson of Philadelphia, No. 2 ranked light heavyweight, will replace Sonny Liston against Howard King in a 10-round televised bout in Chicago Stadium Dec. 3, it was announced Tuesday.

POINT BLANK

★ ★ ★

By Don Bryant

Sports Editor, The Star

Back in August, I charted the Nebraska Cornhuskers and their opponents, did some deep study and came up with this observation:

". . . put me down for predicting a 3-7 season."

Pegging the Husker record correctly would ordinarily call for a celebration. But the boys in the office aren't impressed.

They argue—and with good reason—that Bill Jennings' scrappers fooled me completely even though I tabbed the final mark on the button.

I must admit the office gang has a good talking point. In my pre-season guesses, I listed Iowa State, Kansas State and Missouri as "probable wins" and Oklahoma, Colorado and Kansas "probable losses" among the Big 8 opponents.

The only conference win was over Iowa State, while the other "wins" turned into decisive losses.

My "best upset bets" in the Big 8 failed to come through, but the Huskers came close. I listed Colorado and Kansas in this category.

Nebraska led Colorado into the 4th quarter and was still in the KU game until a pass interception broke up the contest.

In non-conference prognosticating, I fared just about the same. I labeled Penn State and Syracuse as "possible wins" and Purdue and Pittsburgh as "probable losses."

As things turned out, the Huskers beat Penn State, but were trounced by Syracuse—which will meet Oklahoma in the Orange Bowl. Purdue was listed as "more-than-we-can-chew" and was, 28-0.

The big surprise, of course, was the 14-7 win over Pitt.

Back in August, I penned this prediction: "This corner figures 3 wins is par for the course. Anything over that will be surprising and anything over one will be an improvement. The wins might all be in the Big 8 or, perhaps, two in the league and one non-loop."

The result was 3 wins, but two came in non-league upsets, and this is the reason the fellow-workers are incensed.

"How come you couldn't predict Nebraska would beat Pittsburgh?" they ask. "Anyone could perdict wins over Iowa State, Kansas State and some of the other Big 8 patsies."

Maybe so, but it should be pointed out that it's easier to pick wins over those teams than to achieve them. Just ask the Huskers.

The August day-dreaming wound up this way: "A lot will depend on how well the Huskers get away from the gate against Penn State . . . and how well the squad holds up physically . . . Right now it looks like Nebraska will be slightly improved and able to better the 1957 record by a game or two . . . "

As the record-book shows, the Huskers got away good but didn't hold up too well physically. And they were improved and bettered their previous mark by 2 games.

So we all had a successful season.

But fellas . . . yeah, I know . . . okay, so just the Huskers had a good year.

Duck Hunting Near Harlan Reservoir Said Very Good

Cold weather brought heavy flights of ducks into Nebraska in recent days and there were some "spectacular buildups" in some areas, the State Game Commission said Tuesday.

One of the heaviest concentration of birds was between Sacramento and the Harlan County Reservoir. Warden Bill Bonsall, Alma, estimated the mallard population at 100,000 in that vicinity.

He described river shooting below the Haralan Dam as "very good."

Warden Loren Bunney, Ogallala, said there were plenty of ducks and geese in the Lake McConaughy area.

Other reports from Game Commission officers in various parts of the state:

Lowell Fleming, Lyons — Large flight of mallards in the area. Hunting success good. Goose hunting is fair. Most are blues and snows but there are some Canadas.

Joe Ulrich, Bridgeport — Duck hunting good and goose shooting fair.

H. B. Guyer, Lexington — Mallards rafted on Johnson Lake.

Sam Grasmick, North Platte — Waterfowl hunting good. Sutherland Reservoir now holding 40,000-45,000 mallards and hunting activity is brisk. Canada geese have moved in.

Raymond Frandsen, Humboldt —Duck and goose hunting slow on the Missouri River. Quail and squirrel hunting very good in the area.

Lee Bowers, Benkelman — Plenty of ducks on Swanson and Enders Lakes. Also quite a few geese in vicinity.

Harry Stall, O'Neill — A few northern ducks have arrived. There are few geese. A big flight of ducks comes into northern Boyd County every evening.

INDIVIDUALS HOLD KEY TO TANK HOPES

Outstanding individual swimmers hold the key to the success of the 3 Capital City teams that participate in the tank sport this winter.

Lincoln High, where Cal Bentz, former University of Nebraska swim star, replaces Harry Kuklin as head coach exemplifies this trend with junior Bill Fowles, two-time winner and record holder in the butterfly back. The Links also have 6 other lettered swimmers.

Lincoln Northeast coach Ken Wall can count on Phil Swaim, a versatile performer and speedster Steve McCoy. The Rockets have 5 lettermen in all.

Lincoln Southeast, under coach John Reta, has probably the best balanced squad with veterans Mike Miller, Jon Taylor, Virgil Stewart, Dave Roberts, Jay Groth, Bert Merrick, Steve North, Stan Wilson, Bud Dobson and Gary Fries.

Southeast has a squad of 45 working out while Lincoln High and Northeast each have about 30 candidates. The schedules:

Lincoln High

Dec. 17—at Northeast.
Jan. 14—Southeast; 16, at Omaha Tech; 21, Northeast; 29, at Sioux City (Ia.) Central.
Feb. 4—at Southeast; 6, Boys Town; 14, City meet at Activities Bldg.

Northeast

Dec. 12—Creighton Prep; 17, Lincoln High; 19, Southeast and Hastings (Activities Bldg.).
Jan. 9—at Hastings; 16, at Boys Town; 21, at Lincoln High; 28, at Southeast; 30, at Omaha Central.
Feb. 6—at Mid-East (Hastings); 14, City meet.

Southeast

Dec. 12—at Omaha Central; 19, Hastings and Northeast.
Jan. 9—Omaha Tech; 14, at Lincoln High; 21, at Boys Town; 23, at Hastings; 28, Northeast; 30, Creighton Prep.
Feb. 4—Lincoln High; 6, Mid-East at Hastings; 13, City meet.

COP's Bass Could Capture Triple Crown With Big Day

By The Associated Press

Dick Bass, a bulldozing back from the College of the Pacific, makes his bid Thursday to score college football's first statistical triple in 21 years.

Bass, who has turned in some fantastic performances this season for a team with a rather ordinary winning record, goes into his final game against Fresno State assured of the major college rushing championship. With a good enough day, Bass could snatch the scoring title from Billy Austin of Rutgers and the total offense title from Randy Duncan of Iowa. He's second in both departments.

Not since Colorado's Whizzer White finished first in total offense, rushing and scoring in 1937 has any major college player completed such a triple.

NCAA service bureau statistics, released Tuesday, show that all the individual leaders except Bass and Georgia's punter, Bob Walden, have ended the season. Only a few have any assurance of remaining on top, since many major colleges still have games to play.

Here are the No. 1 men:

Total offense: Duncan, 1,406 yards (Bass 1,310).

Rushing: Bass, 1,231 yards.

Passing: Ralph Hunsaker, Arizona, 106 completions.

Scoring: Austin, 106 points on 16 touchdowns and 10 conversion points (Bass 102).

Pass receiving: Dave Hibbert, Arizona, 61 receptions.

Punting: Walden, 46.2 yards average.

Punt returns: John Herillo, Oregon State, 227 yards on 20 returns.

Kickoff returns: Ulmo Randle, Virginia, 506 yards on 21 returns.

FIRECRACKERS MAR CHICAGO HOCKEY TILTS

Chicago (AP) — The Chicago Black Hawks admitted Tuesday "some morons" are tossing walnut-sized torpedoes on the ice during National Hockey League games in the Chicago Stadium.

Johnny Gottselig, Hawk publicitor, denied the projectiles were "grenades" as asserted by N.H.L. President Clarence Campbell.

"About 3 or 4 were tosssed during the Toronto-Chicago game last Sunday," said Gottselig. Campbell said at Montreal that as many as 25 were tossed during Sunday's game here.

"I'd say about 25 of these torpedoes were tossed since the season began," said Gottselig.

"We realize that if one of these Fourth of July type torpedoes landed on a player, it could knock out his eye or do other serious damage," continued Gottselig.

"We have a standing reward of $100 for information on any person committing an act like this."

Over the years, the Chicago Stadium ice has been pelted with dead fish, a dead squirrel, hot pennies, a live rabbit, nuts, bolts and bullets.

No Barnstorming

Los Angeles (AP) — The Los Angeles Dodgers will abandon barnstorming in 1959 and play their entire 30-game exhibition schedule in Florida, general manager Buzzie Bavasi announced Tuesday.

Pro Grid Passers Battling In Jim Brown's Shadow

Philadelphia (AP) — While Jim Brown's record breaking rushing performance has held the limelight in the National Football League, 5 passers have been having a battle for league honors in their specialty.

Eddie Lebaron of the Washington Redskins still has the best average gain per passing attempt, 9.02 yards, according to NFL statistics released Tuesday. But for actual yards gained, Bill Wade of the Los Angeles Rams is the leader with 2,214, more than double Lebaron's output.

John Unitas of the Baltimore Colts, who missed two games because of injuries, still has tossed the most touchdown passes, 14, and has had only 3 of his 167 pass attempts intercepted. That's roughly only one in 55 going ast ay.

John Brodie of San Francisco has the best completion average, 59.2 per cent of his 147 tosses.

The Philadelphia Eagles held Brown, fullback of the Cleveland Browns, to only 66 yards by rushing last Sunday but it increased his league record for the season to 1,229 yards. His nearest competitor is fullback Alan Ameche of Baltimore with 607 yards. Brown's average of 6.2 yards per carry for 199 rushes is topped only by teammate Bob Mitchell with 6.5, but on only 70 attempts.

Brown failed to score and has 17 touchdowns, one short of another league record, for a total of 102 points. Second in the scoring race is Lenny Moore of Baltimore with 72.

Pete Retzlaff of the Eagles has caught the most passes, 43. But Del Shofner, who is second with 40 catches, has gained the most yards, 824. Ray Berry of Baltimore has caught the most TD passes, 7.

Other league leaders are Sam Baker, Washington, punting, 45.9 yard average; Jon Arnett, Los Angeles, punt returns 14.1 yard average; Len Lyles, Baltimore, kickoff returns, 40.8 yard average, and Andy Nelson, interceptions, 8 for 199 yards. Jim Patton of the New York Giants also has 8 but returned them only 111 yards.

LSU Boosts Top Ranking

Louisiana State drove a spike in its No. 1 Dunkel Rating with that 62-0 walloping of Tulane last Saturday.

The Bengals, unbeaten and untied in 10 games, pushed their power index up to 113.2, far ahead of the pack. That figure is based on an average scoring superiority of 22.2 points set against opposition indexed at 91.0.

Iowa's Hawkeyes are second with 108.8, after beating Notre Dame, 31-21, for a season record of 7-1-1.

Notable advances last Saturday were made by Texas Christian, which jumped to 8th; Illinois, to 13th; Florida, to 14th and Georgia, to 15th.

Big 8 teams other than Oklahoma were far down the list with Oklahoma State 42, Missouri 53, Kansas 60, Colorado 67, Iowa State 80, Kansas State 84 and Nebraska 88. Nebraska College Conference co-champs Kearney and Chadron ranked 123rd and 225th, respectively.

BUCHHOLZ NIPS DAVIS CUP FOE

Sydney, Australia (AP)—Earl Buchholz of St. Louis boosted his Davis Cup chances Tuesday by upsetting his teammate, Alex Olmedo, in a thrilling quarter-final of the New South Wales tennis championships.

The 18-year old Missourian who is the Wimbledon junior champion came from behind to overcome the Peruvian from Southern California University, 1-6, 8-6, 5-7, 6-1, 6-4.

This placed him in Thursday semifinals against Roy Emerson of Australia who has been displaying an outstanding game. Emerson was really sharp in beating countryman Bob Mark, 6-1, 6-1, 6-4.

The other semifinal will match defending champion Ashley Cooper, Australia's top player, and Andres Gimeno, the surprising Spaniard.

Buchholz' sterling play has Australian officials worried, especially with the strong possibility that both Cooper and Mal Anderson, the Davis Cup stars, may join Jack Kramer's pro troupe after the challenge round late next month.

Mayo Nets 21 For Peru Varsity

Peru—Bob Mayo, 6-8 transfer from the University of Nebraska, poured in 21 points here Tuesday night as the Peru State varsity ripped the Alumni 90-53 in the season's first outing.

The varsity led 38-23 at the half and Coach Jack McIntyre swept the bench after that. Ron Wagner, cage coach at Syracuse, led the alumns with 12 points.

Conerly Okay

New York (AP)—An X-ray examination Tuesday showed that Charley Conerly, New York Giants quarterback, has no broken bones. He probably will be able to play against the Philadelphia Eagles Sunday at Yankee Stadium.

Scholarships To 4 Scottsbluff Stars

Scottsbluff — Four Scottsbluff High School football players have received grants-in-aid scholarships from the University of Nebraska.

They are: fullback Bill Comstock, center Larry Krause, guard Larry Wiedeman and end Larry Donovan.

Nebraska freshman coach Warren Schmakel has notified the Touchdown Club here of the awards.

Elliott Wants To Try English School

Melbourne (AP)—Herb Elliott, Australia's world record miler, has accepted a scholarship from his employer and expects to go to either an English or Australian university.

Elliott would like to go to either Oxford or Cambridge after the 1960 Rome Olympics but it is doubtful whether he has the scholastic requirements for these famous English institutions.

Grandsinger Trial Testimony Finished

Defendant's Brother Claims Sheriff Freeman 'Took Gun From Car And Went Into The Field'

Rushville, Neb. (AP)—Taking of testimony in the second trial of Loyd Grandsinger for first degree murder was completed Tuesday and final arguments were scheduled for the opening of Wednesday's court session.

The defense rested its case after Leon Grandsinger, brother of the man accused of the slaying of Safety Patrolman Marvin Hansen, spent 2½ hours on the stand giving his version of the incidents prior to and on the night Hanson was shot.

Leon

Leon Grandsinger told the jury Sheriff William C. Freeman "went to my car and got my gun and went into the field".

Leon, now serving a 10 year term for manslaughter, spent 2½ hours on the stand Tuesday as a defense witness in behalf of his brother Loyd, being tried for the patrolman's slaying for the second time.

Loyd's conviction and death sentence in 1954 was set aside by federal courts and a new trial ordered.

Leon testified he was halted by police about 11 p.m. on the dark, dusty, windy night and claimed that he had heard shots fired before he got out of the car. He declared he did not have a gun in his hands when he got out of the car as Sheriff Freeman had testified.

The sheriff handcuffed him and chained him to the door-post of the car, then went into the field, where he stayed for 5 to 10 minutes, Leon testified. During that time, he said he heard more shots, and after that the sheriff returned and radioed other officers for help.

Freeman had testified that Leon got out of the lead car of the two halted, and that he had a gun in his hand but dropped it at the sheriff's order, while Patrolman Hansen went back to the second car which Loyd Grandsinger was driving.

Leon also denied he had told Francis (Bud) Fredericksen that if anybody attempted to stop them while they exchanged motors in a stolen car, "they would never get away alive."

Fredericksen had attributed this statement to the Grandsinger brothers in his earlier testimony in which he said they had come to his place the day before the shooting and tried to sell him a stolen car. He testified they showed him a .22 pistol which he tried to buy and they would not sell it and he finally agreed to show them a place in the Sandhills where they could exchange the motor in the stolen car if they would come back the next night.

Leon's testimony followed the appearance of former Valentine Police Chief L. C. Regler, formerly of Lincoln, who was one of the men at the roadblock some distance ahead of the spot where the Grandsingers were halted.

He related how he had returned to the spot and gone out into the field where he found Patrolman Hansen writhing on the ground but unable to speak. Hansen died in a few minutes.

Regler, now living in Denver, said he crossed a field to a ravine and then saw someone rocking back and forth on the ground. When he saw it was Hansen he said he shouted "My God, they got Marv" and when he got no reply he shouted a second time. He said Hansen never spoke. In 4 or 5 minutes Sheriff Freeman got there, Regler said.

Oil Exploration Hits Blue Note

Sidney, Neb. (AP)—It was a blue week for oil explorers in Cheyenne and Morrill Counties.

Five wells, including two wildcats and 3 field extension attempts, were plugged and abandoned over the weekend.

Hearing For Mrs. Miller Is Postponed

Omaha (AP) — Mrs. Harriet Miller, still maintaining she is the widow of Hotel Magnate Eugene C. Eppley, refused to waive preliminary hearing in Federal Court Tuesday.

But she did ask U.S. Commissioner A. Z. Donato to postpone her hearing until Dec. 12 on a federal charge of transporting a bad check in interstate Commerce. Her request was granted.

Mrs. Miller said the postponement "will give me time to go into County Court and prove that I am Mrs. Eppley and entitled to my share of the estate."

Chief Assistant U.S. District Attorney Richard Peck said the government's charge against Mrs. Miller has nothing to do with her claims about the Eppley estate.

Moisture Perks Up Wheat, But More Needed

Winter wheat has perked up as a result of last week's precipitation, government crop observers reported Tuesday. Other growing crops also registered some improvement.

Moisture was fairly liberal in some eastern sections, restoring surface moisture supplies, the weekly crop report of the State-Federal Division of Agricultural division of Agricultural Statistics pointed out.

Parts of northeastern Nebraska which had experienced an extended dry spell received good moisture, but other sections in the northeast and parts of the western two-thirds of the state received only slight relief.

Moisture still is needed to maintain and improve the crop outlook, the report said.

Other observations:

Pastures and range feed improved as dust was washed off cured grasses and feed became soft and more palatable. Rains also settled the dust in fields and feed lots, improving foraging and feeding conditions for livestock.

95% Corn Picked

Corn picking conditions were improved by the moisture, but less than 5% of the corn crop remained to be picked, and sorghum harvest was virtually finished.

Cattle continued to move into stalk fields. Open weather favored utilizing roughage and fallen grain.

Production rates are above average for milk and eggs.

Fall farrowing has passed the seasonal peak and fall pigs have been making good progress.

The seasonal peak of the feeder cattle and lambs movement has passed. A record number of cattle and calves were shipped into the state this fall.

Dr. Fitzsimmons Gets G.I. Hospital Position

Washington (UPI) — The Veterans Administration announced appointment of Dr. Joseph I. Fitzsimmons, manager of the VA Hospital in Iron Mountain, Mich., as manager of the VA Hospital in Grand Island, Neb.

At Grand Island he will replace Dr. J. Ralston Wells who recently resigned.

Cold Weather Moving Eastward

Sharp drops in temperatures are expected Wednesday for Ohio, Tennessee and mid-Mississippi Valleys, while it should be somewhat warmer along the eastern seaboard and in northern Rockies. Snow flurries are likely in the Lakes area, and rain from the Appalachians eastward and along the Gulf Coast. (AP Wirephoto Map)

Four Roses
ANTIQUE
Kentucky Straight Bourbon

That old-time flavor is back!

Volunteer Fireman
An example of the superb American wood carvings of the 1870's. 15½" high. The craftsmen who made such wood sculptures are often unknown today. ANTIQUE Bourbon is distilled with the same degree of craftsmanship.

Incomparable! Not in this century has there been such a bourbon. ANTIQUE is mellow as time itself. Know why?

You begin with the best—and you end with perfection. You select the finest, richest bourbon whiskey for the barrel. You watch over it day and night. You wait out the years for one golden moment—the moment of maturity.

Then and only then do you take it from the oak, pour it into bottles and label it "ANTIQUE." Incomparable.

Wanted Pair Arrested Amid Bevy Of Officers

... Lawmen On Hand For Grandsinger Trial

White Clay, Neb. (AP)—There was quite a gathering of the law in this little town of 75 persons Tuesday.

It all came about after an alarm was broadcast that two wanted men were driving around in the area.

Police headed into the territory—on the northwest border of Nebraska just over the South Dakota line—from Pine Ridge, S.D., and Rushville, Neb.

From Pine Ridge came Police Chief Calvin Yellow Robe and two other officers. Yellow Robe headed for White Clay because he said, White Clay had a bar where he thought the sought men might be headed from the ranch where they had worked.

Meanwhile, the two men drove into White Clay and sauntered into the bar. Everybody in town knew they were there and everybody knew the officers were coming. So everybody just sat tight.

Within a few minutes Sheriff Buck Freeman, State Patrol Capt. Wayne Byler, Nebraska Reformatory Supt. Harold Smith, a ofrmer patrol captain, and other troopers arrived.

Then Robert E. Kelley, 32, Aitken, S.C., and James Vaughan, 29, Williamsburg, Va., were taken into custody without incident.

All the Nebraska officers had been at Rushville as witnesses in the murder trial of Loyd Grandsinger, Wewala, S.D., who is charged with the slaying of State Trooper Marvin Hansen.

Bremer Named Acting Head Of McCook Schools

Lincoln-Star Special

McCook, Neb. — Fred H. Bremer, 35, McCook Junior High School principal, has been named acting superintendent of McCook schools and president of McCook Junior College to succeed Democratic Governor-elect Ralph G. Brooks.

The McCook School Board accepted Brooks' resignation, effective Jan. 1, and said that naming Bremer acting superintendent and president would give them an opportunity to select a permanent head of the city's school and college system.

It was understood that Bremer would not be precluded from consideration to the permanent post.

Brooks was named superintendent and college president emeritus by the board, and was invited to make the high school commencement address next spring.

Bremer, a University of Nebraska graduate with a master's degree, taught in the McCook schools from 1947 to 1950, then served with the Lincoln and Long Beach, Calif., school systems before returning to McCook this fall.

Big Crowd Attends Opening Of New Highway At Minden

Lincoln Star Special

Minden, Neb.—Despite cold blustery weather, ceremonies marking completion of Highway 10 south of Minden proceeded Tuesday as scheduled with hundreds in attendance.

D. O. Coolidge of McCook, district engineer of the Nebraska Department of Roads, delivered the main address at the ribbon cutting ceremony held at the junction of Highways 6 and 10.

Dignitaries attending included these members of the State Highway Commission: Dr. C. R. Watson of Mitchell; Arthur L. Coad of Omaha; C. E. Metzger of Cedar Creek; Ralph Baker of Valentine, and J. R. McBride of Minden. Also attending was Owen Boyles, of Lincoln, secretary of the commission, and Henry Schlitt, with the State Department of Roads in Lincoln.

Following the official opening of the new bituminous surfaced highway, drag races were featured, sponsored by the Franklin Junior Chamber of Commerce.

Parade Staged

Bands from Wilcox, Hildreth, Campbell, Minden, Axtell, Franklin and Kearney State Teachers College, participated in a parade around the courthouse square in downtown Minden, followed by a massed band concert. Visiting dignitaries were introduced.

Prior to the afternoon ceremonies, a luncheon was held at the Minden Country Club for presidents or representatives of chambers of commerce from Upland, Franklin, Wilcox, Hildreth, Campbell, Minden and Axtell in addition to State Highway Commission members.

The new 14.8 miles of Highway 10 cost approximately $50,000 per mile, including bridges. Roberts Construction Co. of Lincoln held the major contract amounting to $483,749.12; Beatrice Construction Co., Beatrice had two contracts, amounting to $126,307.54; and the Electric Construction Co., Lincoln, one for $5,647.40.

School Merger Eyed

Omaha (AP) — School District 43 of Sarpy County is considering merger with the Omaha metropolitan district. The district has 112 elementary students and of its 30 high school students 29 now attend Omaha high schools The district's levy is $49.10 per $1,000 valuation. Omaha's is $26.50.

MILLION DOLLARS

When the American people spend $665 million for it in one year, it must be good!

That's how much Americans paid to use over 300 million individual newspaper Classified ads in 1957. About one third of it was spent by private individuals using Want Ads to fill personal needs. No other form of advertising is used by as many people.

By way of comparison, that $665 million was only $2 million less than the total spent on all the big network TV shows, and it was $17 million more than was spent on ALL radio, spot, local and network combined. It was $196 million more than was spent in all weekly magazines, and more than triple the amount spent on outdoor advertising.

West Ready To Use Great Plane Fleet

...If Ground Lifelines To Berlin Cut

Berlin (UPI)—The Western allies have decided to use a fleet of more than 600 4-engined planes to supply their garrisons in Berlin if the East German Communists cut the city's regular lifelines to the West, diplomatic sources said Tuesday night.

The United States, Britain and France drew up a firm common plan of action in Berlin providing for defense of the city with tanks and guns, if necessary, the sources said.

Consultations have been going on for the past 10 days in Western capitals, the sources said.

Ready For Emergency

The immediate plan of action was based on the premise that the Soviets will give East Germans the right to control Western allied traffic to isolated Berlin.

They agreed that the Big 3 will not accept East German ground controls but will return convoys to their starting point if need be and fly over the blockade with supplies.

If and when East German police replace Soviet border guards the Western allies will seek to send their convoys through unhampered by East German checks, the diplomat said.

U.S. authorities warned all American officials, military men and their families traveling to or from West Berlin to refuse to submit to East German border controls and to turn back to free territory if challenged.

Pyrenees Area Jolted

Toulouse, France (UPI) — Several earth tremors shook the Pyrenees region of southwestern France Tuesday. Damage was limited to a few cracked walls and toppled chimneys. No casualties were reported.

Nine Wesleyan University students have been nominated as members of the Wesleyan chapter of Pi Gamma Mu, national social-science fraternity. They are:

According to Dr. David Mickey, counselor for the Wesleyan chapter, students are selected for membership after showing superior work in the academic areas included within the social sciences.

11-Year Ban Eased

Rangoon, Burma (AP) — Slaughter of cattle is to be permitted under certain conditions in this predominantly Buddhist republic after an 11-year ban. One reason for easing of the prohibition against slaughter is a rise in the nation's herds.

Nixon Pledges:

West Will Stand Firm In Berlin

London Communists Stage An Anti-Parade

London (AP)—Vice President Nixon started off his 4-day visit to Britain Tuesday with a clear cut declaration that the West will stay in Berlin and stand firm against Communist aggression.

British Communists staged a banner-waving anti-Nixon parade—but far from the Nixon party.

About 500 Reds marched through London's west end Tuesday night while Nixon and his wife met some of the big names of Britain at Prime Minister Macmillan's residence.

The Communists carried banners saying "Nixon go home," "Close down the U.S. bases," and "End H-bomb patrols." But they halted about a mile from 10 Downing St., knowing that if they headed for the prime minister's residence the police would act. Fifty policemen marched alongside the demonstrators to keep order.

Nixon's first speech after his arrival contained his pronouncement on Berlin.

He addressed a 500-place luncheon of the Pilgrims Society, an influential group dedicated to improving British-American relations.

Kirkman Heads ExaminingBureau

R. K. Kirkman, drug purchaser for the State Purchasing Department, was named Tuesday as the new director of the State Health Department's Bureau of Examining Boards.

State Health Director Dr. E. A. Rogers announced Kirkman's appointment to replace Husted K. Watson who is resigning from the Post to move to Florida.

Kirkman will assume his duties Dec. 16.

City Worker Accident Rate Shows Drop

The accident rate for Lincoln city employes dropped during the fiscal year ended Sept. 1.

City Coordinator James Mallon credited the safety training classes held as a major factor.

There were 158 accidents resulting in compensation claims totalling $23,000, Mallon said. This was compared with $34,000 in 1956-57 and $38,000 in 1955-56.

$11,000 Death Damages

This year's losses also included a $11,000 death damages in an accident involving a city lineman.

Mallon termed this year's record a "good start" in reducing employe accidents and said the safety education program would continue.

Bulk of the 158 employe accidents were reported by the Park Department, 18.4%; Lincoln General Hospital, 17.7%; fire department, 17.7%; water and light, 13.3%, and police, 12.6%.

Departments having totals under 5% were street, paving repair, offices, sewer, recreation, library and health.

Major accident causes were falls and near-falls, 38; struck or caught between objects, 28; cuts, 28; burns, 7; animal bites, 6; vehicle mishaps, 5; fights (while making arrests), 4.

City officials say dog bites are an occupational hazard for the meter readers.

Brooks Campaign Received $1,000 From Laborers

The Brooks for Governor Committee Tuesday reported receipt of $1,000 from the International Hod Carriers and Common Laborers' Local 1140 toward the election of Democrat Ralph Brooks.

Disbursements of $2,247 and unpaid debts of $1,461.72 were reported in a filing with the secretary of state.

The Lawrence Brock for Congress Committee listed contribution of $11,258 and expenditures of $9,519.68.

The Francis Casey for Congress Committee, Plattsmouth, reported receipts of $3,403.95 and disbursements of $3,364.76 toward the Democrat's unsuccessful bid to unseat Glenn Cunningham.

A supplementary report from the Clair A. Callan for Congress committee listed contributions of $450.

The Kathleen Foote for Legislature Committee reported receipt of $356.05 and expenditure of the same amount toward the unsuccessful attempt of Mrs. Foote, Axtell, to win back her 31st Legislative District seat.

Pickets Spend 4th Day At Site Of Grain Elevator

Pickets representing Laborers Local Union 1140 were in their 4th day of picketing the Chalmers and Borton Co. of Hutchison, Kan., at the site of a new grain elevator the firm is building at the northeast edge of Lincoln.

A union spokesman said the construction firm isn't paying minimum union rates.

Oscar Whitacre, the firm's construction superintendent, said he is using non-union labor and does not plan to hire union workers. More than 30 workers are hired to date, he said.

Two persons are picketing 8 hours a day. They started Friday and will continue indefinitely, according to the union.

Living Costs Stay On An Even Keel

Washington (AP)—Lower food prices offset higher price tags for most other family purchases in October to keep the nation's living cost level unchanged.

The government's consumer price index thus remained steady for a 3rd straight month at 123.7% of the 1947-49 base period. It is just a notch below the 123.9 record high level recorded in July.

The halt in the previous 2-year price rise will cost 220,000 workers a penny-an-hour pay cut under labor contracts gearing wage rates to the government index. But the change was insufficient to alter pay rates under a different adjustment formula for nearly one million auto industry workers.

The workers due for the slight pay cut — first such downward living cost pay adjustment since March, 1956 —are employed by Westinghouse Electric, Deere & Co., Chicago Transit Authority, and several aircraft firms.

Hersey Riley, Labor Department price chief, had some good holiday news in addition to word that living costs are staying within a narrow range.

He said turkeys for Thanksgiving Day feasts across the land are selling a bit cheaper this year. Riley also noted that Labor Department sample buyers are finding that toys are selling for somewhat less in this year's pre-Christmas buying.

Stock Market Loses Again

New York (AP)—The stock market succeeded only for a while in resisting another decline Tuesday. In the end another sizable loss was chalked up, the third in as many sessions.

Losses of key stocks went from fractions to around 2 points.

Based on the fall in the Associated Press average the quoted value of stocks listed on the New York Stock Exchange fell an estimated $2,183,000,000.

Volume slipped to 3,940,000 shares compared with 4,770,000 Monday. Despite the slackened trading pace the day still was very active. The ticker tape ran late on three occasions.

The market was buffeted at the opening with a follow-through from Monday's big shakeout, the most severe drop in three years. Resistance soon developed, however, and prices firmed, making the pattern no worse than irregular by early afternoon.

The best gains could not be held and considerable nervousness was apparent among the investing public.

Brokers said this was heightened by the approach of the Thanksgiving weekend which will be a long one for some people. Additionally, there was news of copper price cuts abroad and at the custom smelter level at home, as well as Britain's decision to release more stockpile copper.

Throughout Wall Street theorists were saying that the present "correction" in the bull market's rise probably would continue until the averages hit a lower level from which to rebound and continue what they believe to be the major, rising trend.

Lower prices were the rule for steels, rubbers, aircrafts, electronics, utilities, nonferrous metals, chemicals, drugs and electrical equipments. The pattern was mixed for rails, motors, oils and tobaccos.

The AP 60-stock average fell $1.70 to $199.60 with the industrials down $2.60, the rails down 20 cents and the utilities down $1.00.

Of 1,230 issues traded 842 fell and 367 rose. There were 15 new highs for the year and 6 new lows.

American Stock Exchange prices declined on turnover of 1,440,000 shares compared with 1,690,000 Monday.

Long range U.S. government bonds advanced again with some gains up to 20-32. Corporate securities closed lower with rails, utilities and foreign dollar bonds giving ground. Investment quality issues and industrial were mixed in a narrow range.

Corporate trading declined to $6,440,000 par value on the big board from $38,380,000 Monday.

Follows Sudan

Saint Louis, Senegal (AP) — Senegal followed the French Sudan into the newly created community of French overseas states.

The Senegalese National Assembly unanimously approved a resolution calling for membership.

The resolution also declared Senegal would join a federation of former French territories in Africa. The assembly set itself up as a constituent body to study writing of a new Constitution and to work out plans for federation.

Pound Of Turkey

Heidelberg, Germany (UPI) —U.S. soldiers in Europe will get a pound of turkey each, plus the regular trimmings when they sit down to Thanksgiving dinners in their mess halls, it was announced.

Holiday meals also will be served in Army messes in France, Germany and Italy to many thousands of guests—most of them orphan children from institutions "adopted" by various troop commands.

Forecast Ups Corn Prices

Chicago (AP)—A forecast of a cold wave and heavy snow over a large area of the Midwest boosted corn futures prices Tuesday on the Board of Trade but weakened wheat.

While the cold and snow were expected to bring country marketings of corn to a halt for a while wheat would be greatly benefited by the snow, particularly if it should be heavy enough to protect plants from severe temperatures and prevent soil blowing.

Traders made weather the over-riding influence despite a good volume of long-awaited export business which was expected to have

Commerce Agency Says Production, Employment, Income Continue Strong

Washington (AP) — The Commerce Department said the business recovery is being sustained. "Production, empoyment and income continue strong," it reported.

The department said rising demand is being reflected in an expansion of new orders booked by businessmen. It also noted the economic upturn in recent months has been accompanied by relative price stability.

To illustrate the recovery pattern, the department's monthly survy of current business cited production rates for 16 different products. Plants producing all but 3 of these are operating at a higher percentage of capacity than last spring. And the report noted that capacities have been raised in the meantime.

Copper refining, wood pulp production and cotton spindle activity have returned to the production levels of September 1957, the report said.

Remain

The only production drop shown was for sulphuric acid, down to 73% of capacity from 76% in April. Production of aluminum and men's suits remained at April levels.

The department said consumer demand has drawn strong support from a continued large flow of personal income, which in October was at a seasonally adjusted annual rate of 357½ billion dollars. That was down 300 million dollars from the record September rate, reflecting work stoppages in several durable goods industries.

Most merchants except auto dealers reported their sales exceeded year-ago levels in September and October.

The report said total output in the early part of the 4th quarter has shown some advance from the 3rd quarter level. The department announced last week that output—goods and services produced—increased to an annual rate of 439 billion dollars in the 3rd quarter.

Record August and September figures for the total value of new construction put in place were nearly equalled by the October record, the survey said.

"A marked feature of the recession was the strength in prices during a period of declining economic activity," the report said. It added that consumer prices since mid-year "have shown little change as food prices leveled off and subsequently declined."

Final Respects

Hollywood (AP) — Friars Club members paid final respects at Jewish funeral services for Harry Einstein, known in the entertainment field as Parkyakarkus.

He died of a heart attack Sunday night at a Friars' benefit performance, despite frantic efforts of a team of surgeons to save his life by opening his chest cavity and massaging his heart.

George Jessel eulogized the 54-year-old comedian as a man of great talent.

Capital Steel Defends Personal Tax Return

By Del Harding

An attorney representing Capital Steel Co. defended the firm's 1958 county personal property tax return before the County Board Tuesday, declaring the return was filled out "as honestly and as best we know how."

Atty. Phil Sidles appeared before the Board to answer charges made last week by County Commissioner Del Lienemann, who had claimed a recent State Attorney General's opinion showed the steel firm owed the county about $5,400 in taxes.

Sidles said $220,000 of the firm's $306,000 inventory was not subject to county taxes because a contract between the firm and the state provided the contractor was authorized to ship that amount of steel to the State Dept. of Roads (for later construction use) and that this steel would be exempt from taxation.

He added that the taxation issue is a "moot question" because the $220,000 worth of steel involved was not in Lancaster County on assessment date and therefore would not be subject to taxation in this county regardless of the 'ax-exempt status.

County Assessor Arthur M. Davis said he will ask the county attorney's office to look into the matter, but said he is inclined to agree that if the steel was not in Lancaster County on the March 1 assessment date it would not be subject to tax regardless of the tax-exempt question.

Sidles also said he was "distressed" at the implication of Lienemann's statement and said he believed an apology was due his firm. Lienemann, however, offered none and indicated he would investigate the matter further.

Shelley Heads County Heart Fund Drive

Jim Shelley of Lincoln has been named by the Nebraska Heart Assn. to head the 1959 Lancaster County Heart Fund drive.

Shelley was named chairman of the drive by Nebraska Heart Fund Chairman Stanley Huffman of Ewing.

The 1959 Heart Fund Drive will advance the activities of the Nebraska Heart Assn. in combating heart and blood vessel disease, which last year caused 54% of Nebraska's deaths.

"At least three-fourths of the funds collected will remain in Nebraska," Huffman said, "with over half slated to again be alloted to research."

Sponsorship Of Workshop To Be Asked

The United Church Women of Lincoln will be asked at a Dec. 2 meeting to co-sponsor a 2-day workshop on the problem of how to deal with controversy within a community on housing and especially race relations.

Approval to help sponsor such a conference was given by the city's special Council on Human Relations this week to Mrs. M. C. Leonard, who has initiated the proposed workshop.

According to Mrs. Leonard, a committee member for the National United Church Women and also a member of the Council on Human Relations in Lincoln, a Ford Foundation grant has been made to the national group for such workshops.

This workshop will not be a series of lectures, she said, but 2 days of intensive workshop activity including several talks, films and discussion groups aimed at breaking down the existing emotional barriers before constructive talk can begin.

The proposed survey of Negro housing and employment in Lincoln recommended by the Council on Human Relations remains at a standstill, she said.

Road Closings Action Deferred

Action on the proposed closing of 3 county roads was deferred Tuesday by the Lancaster County Board until next week's meeting.

Commissioner Rollin Bailey was not present and the Board wanted to wait until all 3 members are in attendance before taking any action on the road, which are located north of Agnew, northeast of Havelock and west of Lincoln between Pioneers and Van Dorn.

Davey Selected

Scottsbluff, Neb. (UPI) — Charles Davey, member of the Scotts Bluff county board, was named to head the Scottsbluff Chamber of Commerce. Davey was picked at a meeting of the board of directors to succeed C. A. Thomas.

Severe Smog Attack Worries Officials In LA

Los Angeles (AP) — Noxious smog, consisting partly of sulphuric acid mist, blanketed the city Tuesday. Officials say it is one of the most severe smogs on record and they are worried about it.

The corrosive acid is formed when oxides of sulphur mix in the air with fog. Such mists are formed only rarely here.

Smith Griswold, head of the Air Pollution Control District, was called before the county supervisors to discuss the latest attack.

The mist, he said, "is a cause of great worry" because so little is known about it. It is rare here and scientists do not measure its concentration as they do that of many of smog's other ingredients.

Officials said they do not know if the current concentration of mist is enough to endanger health.

Nebraska Deaths

Julius B. Stroemer

Wymore—Funeral services for Julius B. Stroemer, 77, who died in a Beatrice hospital, will be held at 2 p.m. Friday at the Langhlin Funeral Home at Wymore. Burial will be in St. John Lutheran Cemetery, west of Barneston. A retired farmer, he is survived by one son, DeLoss of Steele City; 4 daughters, Mrs. Opal Tucker of Canoga Park, Calif., Mrs. Heneva Hanners of Huntington Park, Calif., Mrs. Norlene M. Connett of Riverside, Calif., and Mrs. Arlene Acton of Liberty; two sisters, and one brother.
